ACADEMICS

English

The English Department, under the chairmanship of Mr. Lalley, is perhaps the most outstanding department at Brother Rice. Its objectives are that the student will achieve clarity, correctness, and cogency of written and oral expression and self-awareness and value formation through reading of literature.

In order to accomplish these objectives, the department is kept well staffed. Nearly all of the members hold a master's degree, and some have done more advanced study.

Curriculum development is a constant concern. In junior and senior year, the student is offered a wide selection of electives, including mass media, drama, and various specialized literature courses. Introductory and American Literature are still mandatory for freshmen and sophomores, but intensive revision of the programs at these levels has begun.

Language

"Why do we have to take a language?" So many students ask this question because they do not see much value in learning a foreign language, especially when many colleges are dropping that requirement. The benefits of a foreign language, however, are both lingual and cultural, since learning about the life and language of another people helps us to understand ourselves better.

The Language Department, under the chairmanship of Brother Wolf, realizes these benefits and attempts to provide them as much as possible through three language curriculums: French, Spanish and Latin.

Science

Through most of its history, Brother Rice has been known as a science-orientated school. Although the emphasis has not been as great in recent years, the Science Department, with Brother Lucas as chairman, has maintained a fine reputation. Excellent lab facilities are provided for the courses in Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

This year, the Science Department offered to interested honor students an accelerated Science course. For the first three-fourths of the year, Brother Favero instructed about thirty students in the fundamentals of organic chemistry. During the remaining portion of the year, students received an introduction into nuclear physics.

Mathematics

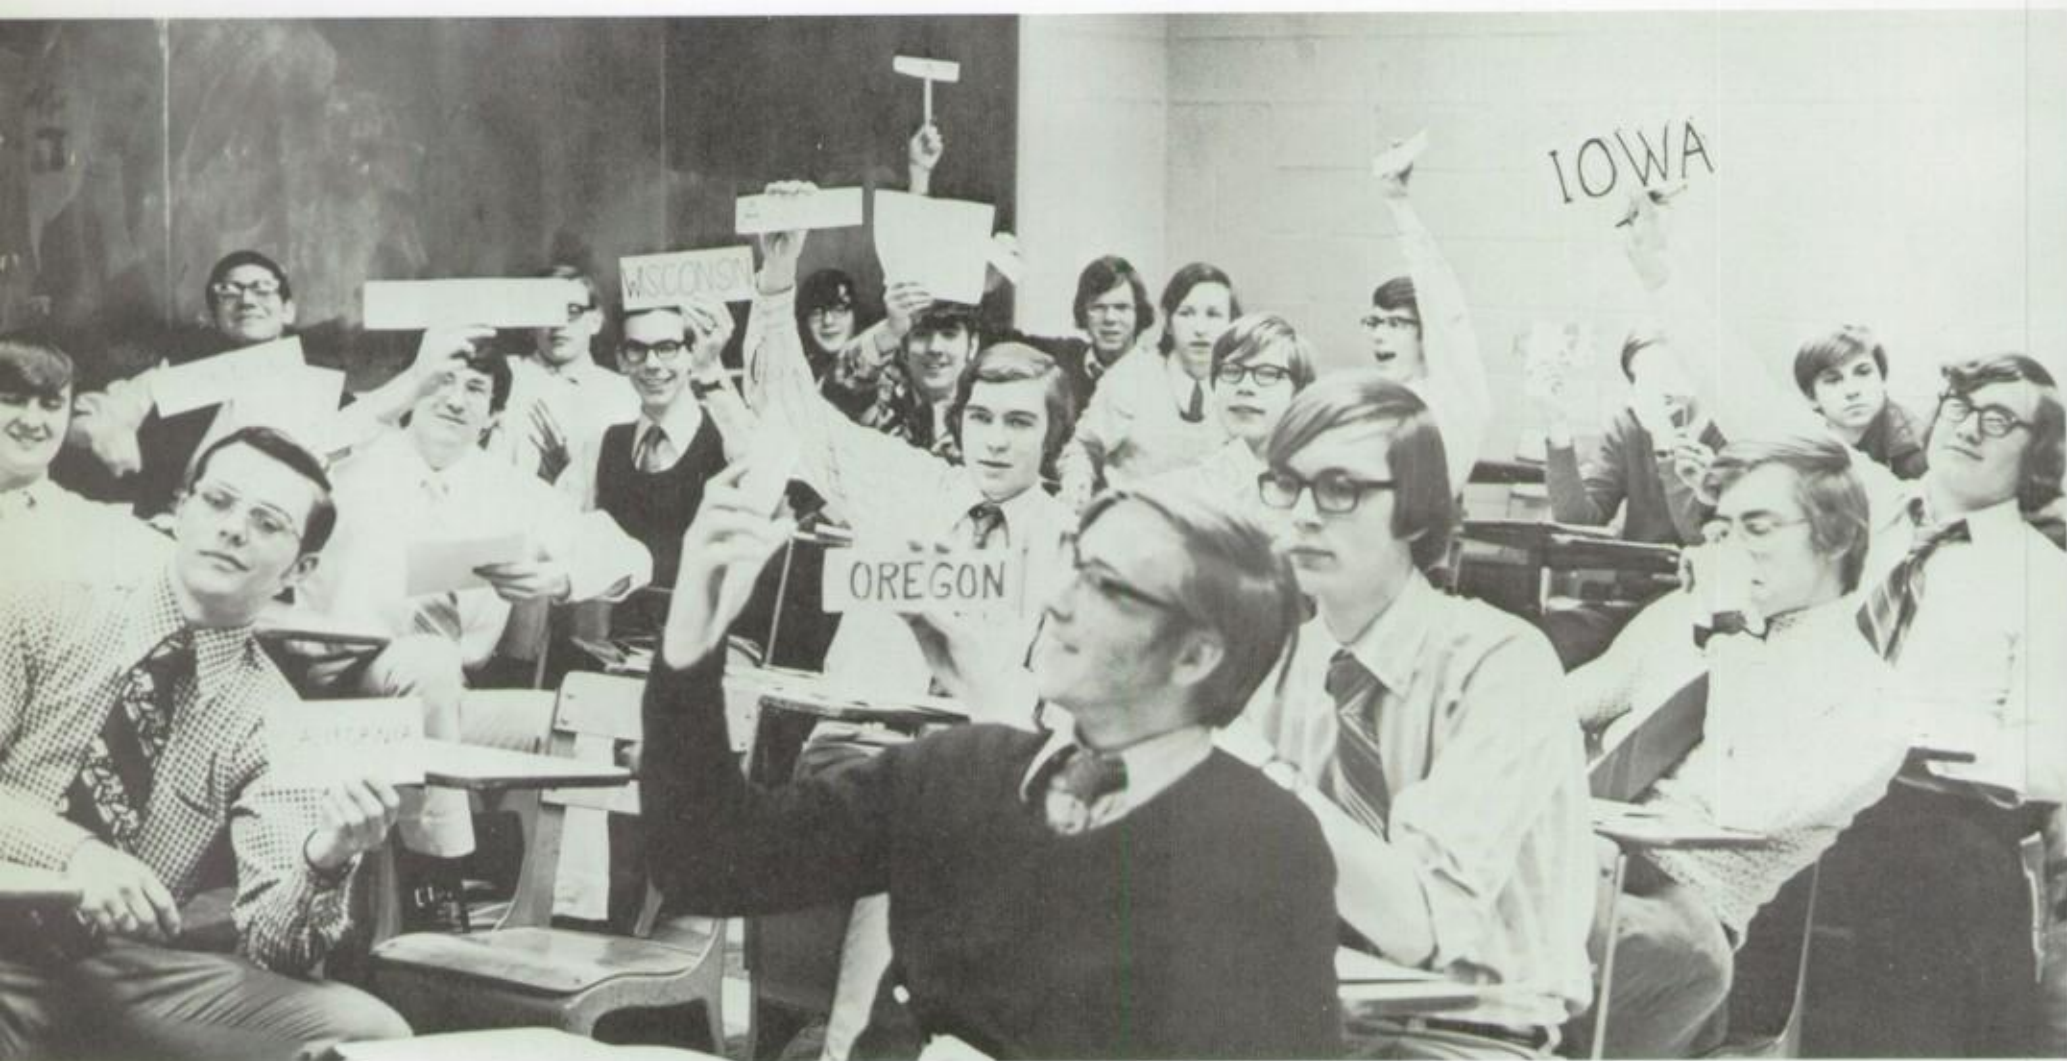

The Mathematics Department this year continued fulfilling the high standards of learning it has maintained, especially in preparing science and math-orientated students with a firm understanding of math's fundamentals. The far-reaching goal of the department, states chairman Mr. Thomas Lempkowski, is "The attainment of truth."

A few changes in personnel have been made this year. Brother Cotter was transferred to St. Laurence and Brother Lucas added an algebra class to his duties in the science department.

Mr. Lempkowski stated that next year, the Math Department will challenge more gifted seniors by offering them the opportunity to register for independent study classes in more advanced research areas, including Statistics, Calculus, and Computer Technology. The department will offer the average student intriguing programs which will continue to instill an understanding of the fundamentals and more advanced concepts of modern mathematics.

Social Studies

The objectives of the Social Studies Department, chaired by Brother Devane, are clear: to recall past events and relate them to these in the present. In keeping with these objectives, Brother Rice offers its students a constantly developing curriculum in Social Studies. At present, sophomores take World History, juniors United States History, and seniors are offered electives consisting of Russian Studies, Comparative Governments, and Problems of Democracy.

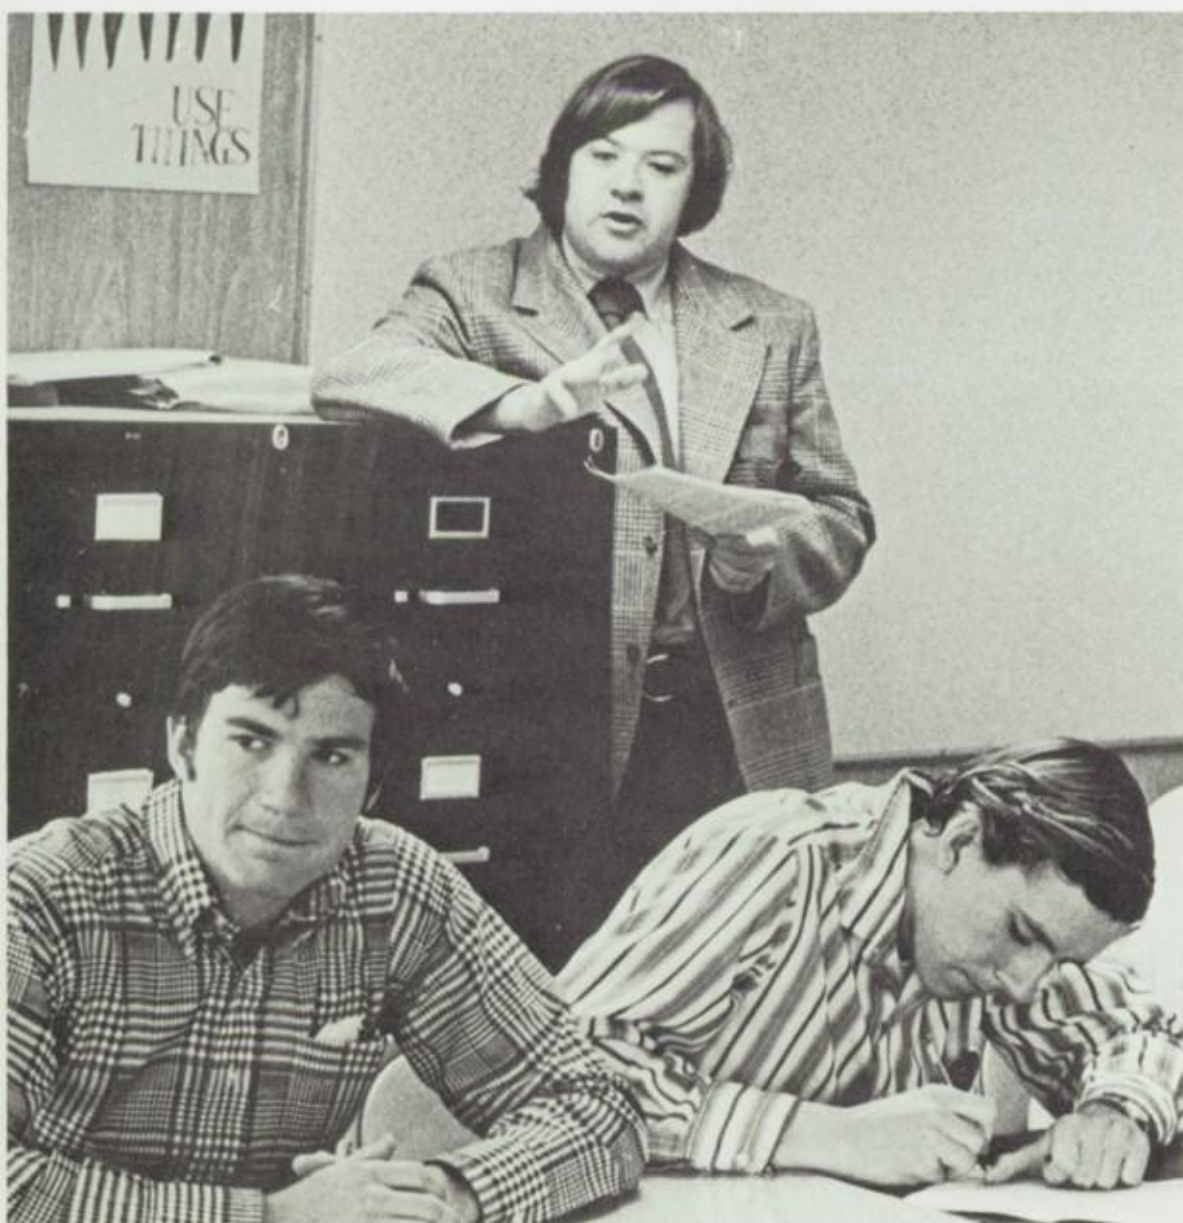

Next year, however, the department plans to offer additional courses in Sociology, Law and American Foreign Policy. For both the student interested in specialized subjects and the student who wants a general knowledge in these areas, it is a pretty good deal.

Top: A senior class displays the placards they use in their mock-senate. Right: Brother Duffin employs films and other visual aids to instruct his classes.

Religion

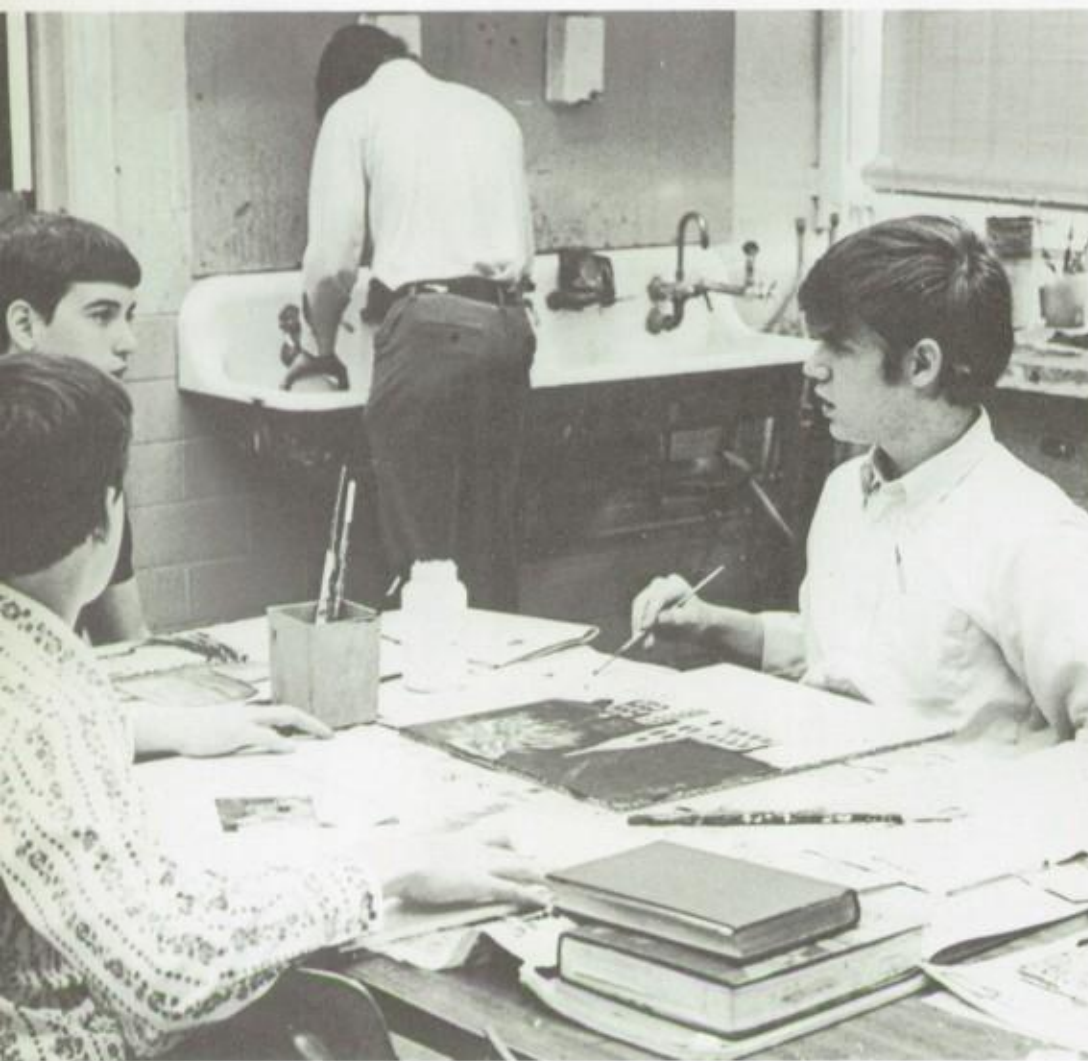

In times of crisis and in times of joy, religion has remained a reliable source of hope, guidance, and learning. The Religion Department at Brother Rice recognizes that the development of faith within its students is necessary for both the foundation of a good Catholic school and the personal growth of a Catholic student. In order to accomplish this objective, chairman Patrick Rattigan believes that his department has attempted to instill in its students an understanding of adult Christian faith within the "Catholic tradition" and to provide a structure for a viable meaning system.

Art

to lead the mind into new directions;
to develop the uniqueness of the individual;
to make the potentials in each person function for him;
to involve the learner in seeking, discovering, working,
analyzing, and evaluating.

Brother Chapman

Brother Chapman, a very fine artist himself, is the only art "teacher" at Brother Rice. These candid reveals the openness and freedom that is needed for an individual's creativity and imagination to flourish.

Drawing

The Drawing Department is one of the smallest at Brother Rice. It consists of one room, 113, and two teachers, Brother Joyce and Brother Kiely. Despite its size, much is accomplished for those students who participate in its curriculum. Rice offers interested students courses in Mechanical, Engineering, and Architectural Drawing. Since all these courses are electives, the students involved in these classes are there because they want to be, providing a very healthy atmosphere from the start.

Business

Students who are planning careers in the business world receive a strong preparation at Brother Rice from the faculty members in the Business Department. Besides instruction in the fundamentals of business, basic and invaluable skills like typing provide the necessary knowledge a student must possess to enter future executive and managerial positions.

In the courses offered at Rice, Business Law and Accounting students acquire knowledge of the principles of business operations. In addition, a strong familiarity with terms and principles of law in the realm of business are acquired.

Typing is a skill that becomes invaluable after high school, especially in the business world.

Mr. Osborn, besides his duty as the school's treasurer, teaches simple and advanced accounting.

SPORTS

Intramurals

This year's fall and winter intramural sports program was a huge success. Organized by Brothers Granitz and Fitzsimmons, the program was undoubtedly the best in Brother Rice's history; an estimated 500 students participated in a variety of sports.

The year began with football, with 16 junior-senior teams and 13 freshman-sophomore teams participating. The Giants were the champions in the junior-senior division, and the Cornhuskers took the crown in the milder division. The All-Star game highlighted the season; the faculty, behind the most valuable player performance of Mr. Perry, defeated the senior all-stars in a close and hard-fought game.

Eighty students played in this year's Brother Rice Golf Open at Palos Country Club. Paul Omastak's 88 was good enough to win in the stiff winds. Finishing off the fall season was a successful handball tournament run by Mike O'Flaherty. Junior Bob Dorman was the singles champion, and Jim Kane and Mike McGowan teamed to win the doubles title.

Winter intramurals only included basketball this year. A desperate attempt was made to build an ice rink, but poor weather brought the hockey season to an abrupt halt; however, an excellent basketball league compensated in its place. The junior-senior league had 27 teams, and the freshman-sophomores had 24 teams. The senior league was divided into three divisions, grouped according to ability. The Cougars were the champions in the tough Central division. The faculty team, led by 'Doc' Staron's shooting, were unstoppable and went undefeated; however, they did not play in the playoffs.

The success of this year's program can be attributed to the hard work of many students. Several who deserve special recognition are Bob Stachniak, Tom York, Joe Schubert, Kevin McKenna, Pat Baldwin, Mike Murphy, John Stedman, and Bill Martin.

Hundreds of students participated in intramurals this year, as seen in the action shots of just a few of the fall and winter sports offered.

Football

The 1973 Brother Rice Football Crusaders, led by Coach Tom Mitchell, achieved an excellent record of 7 wins, 3 losses, and wound up in the Catholic League Championship game for the 5th time. Coach Mitchell credited the success of this year's team to the fine job of its co-captains and assistant coaches. He also commended the team for its group effort and recognized the great support from the student body.

Rice's perennial rival, St. Laurence, who had never defeated us in their 10 year history, proved to be Rice's nemesis, scamp-ering to a 14-6 victory in the final game before the playoffs.

In Rice's 5th visit to the Catholic League playoffs, the semi-final contest at Dyche Stadium saw the Crusaders post a 18-0 victory over powerful rival, Loyola Academy. Two weeks later, Brother Rice met St. Laurence at Soldier Field for the Catholic title. Trailing 8-0 with one minute and ten seconds remaining, Dave Ruzich threw three passes for 68 yards and Coleman plunged in for the touchdown with only 20 seconds remain- ing. Failing in the conversion play, however, Rice lost in its bid for the Catholic and City Championship, 8-6.

The defensive team, led by co-captain Dan McNamara, had an excellent season, yielding an average of nine points per game. It included Leo Novosel, Jon Zwitt, Marty Grogan, and Mike Norris.

This year's offense, led by co-captains Dave Ruzich and Jerry Szara, was one of Rice's strongest ever, averaging 21 points per game. It included Sylvester O'Dell, Steve Hicks, Mike Sheehy, and Rich Cunningham.

Big factors in Rice's second place finish in the Catholic League were All-State, All-Area, and All-Catholic selection Sylvester O'Dell, who broke Brother Rice's rushing record by compiling 981 yards in 136 carries; Honorable Mention All-Area and All-Catholic selection Steve Hicks, who broke Rice's receiving record with 37 receptions for 427 yards; and Mike Norris who set a record with 6 interceptions. Freshman Football

The Freshman Football Team upheld a Rice tradition with a winning season, compiling a perfect 6-0 record. Among stiff competition, Coaches Staron and Kluchard directed this year's team to one of its finest seasons.

The team was packed with many fine athletes, including outstanding players Jim Norwell, Steve Fleming, Ken Hardy, Kevin Barry, Brian McClowery, and Tim Lawrence, who scored a record seventeen touchdowns. If these athletes are an indication of future teams, Rice will continue its successful football seasons.

Swimming

Swimming is the most demanding sport at Brother Rice. These highly conditioned athletes train an average of two hours a day through October to March, swimming as much as 5000 yards in one day's workout. Once again, their efforts and those of coaches Brothers Joyce and Favero paid off with another successful season. Led by captain Steve Ward, senior Mark McCord, and junior Tim Harris, the varsity swimmers climaxed their 9-3 season by soundly defeating our perennial rival Loyola for second place in the City Championships. In the Friar Relays, our Crusaders took third place, while winning the Carmel Tournament, making Rice South Side Champs.

The junior varsity team, after a victory-filled season last year, rebounded with a 7-5 season record. Paced by Bill Cody and Marty Katula, the juniors took third place in the City Meet, trailing Loyola by a slim eighteen points.

Many Rice records were broken this year. Steve Ward's time of 58.0 seconds set a new 100 yard backstroke record. Sophomore Marty Katula's 1:22.2 established a 150 yard freestyle record. Bill Cody set three records: 40 yard backstroke — 23.8, 80 yard individual medley — 47.0, and 100 yard breaststroke — 1:06.6. Tim Harris, perhaps the finest swimmer in Rice's history, has broken, set, and reset many swimming records, including four this year: 100 yard butterfly — 54.4, 50 yard freestyle — 22.6, 60 yard freestyle — 28.0, and the 160 yard individual medley — 1:38.6.

Track

The varsity track team, coached by Mr. Burt, had a disappointing year. With much talent and high hopes, the team finished with an 8-3 season record, capturing third in the Catholic League Championships. Bad spring weather, a key injury to Hunter Lewis, and "shaky" senior co-operation contributed to the slightly disappointing year.

Among the assorted talented athletes was Most Valuable Player Sylvester O'Dell. A Catholic League Champion in the long jump, Sly took first in the long jump and seconds in the low and high hurdles at the Varsity City Meet. His hurdle times were among the top ten in the state. Wayne Bock was also a Catholic League Champion in the shot put. With a terrific effort at the City Meet, his 52'9" throw enabled him to beat a rival from Loyola for the first time all season.

Others should be congratulated on their fine efforts at the Varsity City Meet: Pete Pavilonis took third in shot put; Brian Sheehy, in his first year on track, captured second in the 440 dash; Steve Bonblak finished fourth in the 880; Mike Blouin took second in the high jump.

At the Rice Relays, Mark Blouin took first in the high jump, and the team of Jim Coleman, Brian Sheehy, Hunter Lewis, and Sly O'Dell took the first place trophy in the 880 relay.

The junior varsity, coached by Brother Cranitz, finished fifth in the Catholic League Championships, while posting a 6-5 season record.

Tennis

The Brother Rice Tennis Team, once again coached by Brother Moore, easily took first place in the South Section despite sickness and injuries. They went on to capture fourth place in the Catholic League during the fall season.

During the Spring Round Robin, the team got it all together and captured second place in the Catholic League by defeating Fenwick for the first time in four years. The team was paced by captain Bob Stachniak and co-captain Al Tamiosius. Juniors Jeff Tremback, Eddy Gudonis, Vito Cemarka, Kark Mullins, Bob Onesto, sophomores Marty Murray and Al Luneckas, and freshman Pat Navin rounded out the starting team of five singles and two doubles.

Besides finishing the Spring Round Robin with a six win and one loss record, the Crusaders took many trophies and honors in spring tournaments and dual meets.

This year's varsity golf team, perhaps the best Brother Rice has had in its history, was coached by Br. Donnelly. During an impressive season, the team posted a 6-0 record. The outstanding golfers were seniors Tom Williams, Kevin Walsh, and Don Patton, and junior Lance Tenbrook. Although turning in a perfect record, the varsity's high hopes for a Catholic League Title dwindled when the top starters were put out of action before the City Meet.

The junior-varsity golf team is just learning the ropes of playing in the stiff competition of the Catholic League. Although young and inexperienced, the juniors turned in a respectable 4-2 season record.

Bowling

As a result of stiff competition, the Brother Rice Bowling Team finished fourth in the Catholic League behind St. Rita, Mt. Carmel, and Leo. The bowlers, however, climaxed the season with an upset victory over first place St. Rita in their final match and a second place finish in the Catholic League All-Star Tournament. Both the varsity and junior-varsity bowlers posted 7-5 records for the year.

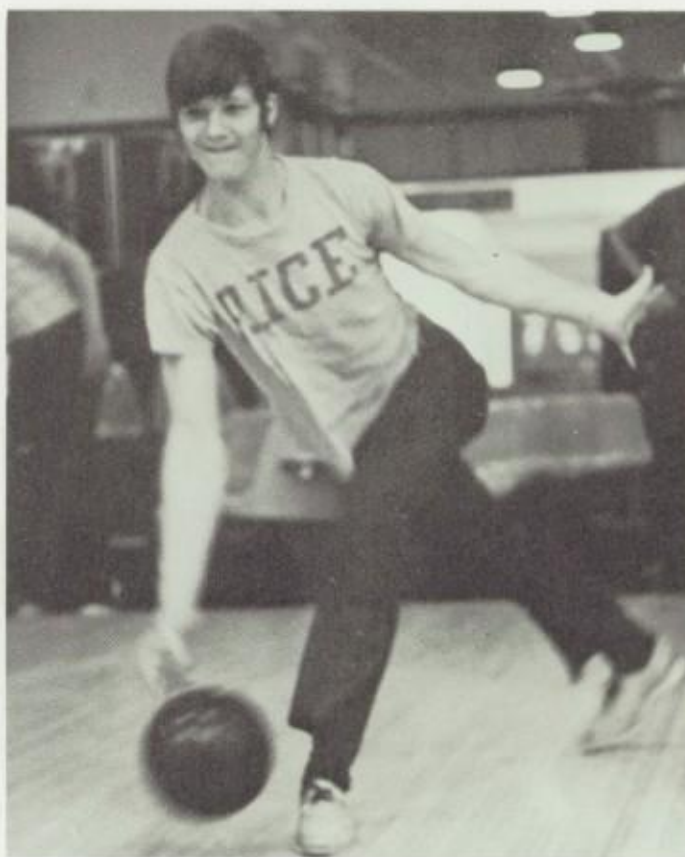

The varsity team was led by senior John Ruzic's consistent performances, Ruzic's high average (180) earned him recognition as an All-Catholic League selection. He also had high series during the year with a 653 series. Coach Johnston says the team will definitely improve its record next year, when a fine group of bowlers will return.

Cross Country

One of the most arduous and demanding sports at Brother Rice is Cross Country. This year's Varsity team is guided by Coach Burt, who is in his sixth year as head coach. This year, captain Dave Zorich and outstanding seniors Kevin McKenna and Steve Boblak led the team in posting a dual meet record of 6 wins and 4 losses, while finishing sixth in the Catholic League City Championships. The team also took third place in the Irish Christian Brother's Meet. Coach Burt commented that this team possessed dedication, ability, and tremendous spirit.

The Junior Varsity harriers were under the direction of Brother Schul, and led by outstanding freshman runner, Kevin O'Connell. The team finished sixth in the City Championship, while posting a dual meet record of 6 wins and 4 losses. It is Brother Schul's opinion that the freshman team is composed of many talented runners who will add successful chapters to the history of Cross Country at Brother Rice.

Baseball

Brother Rice was runner-up in the Catholic League baseball race in 1973, being defeated by Loyola in two games. The first game went 13 innings, and the title game was lost by a 9-5 score. The team, however, recorded the best league record with 14 wins and 3 losses. They won their first five games before losing, but then rebounded with eight straight to clinch the South Section by five games.

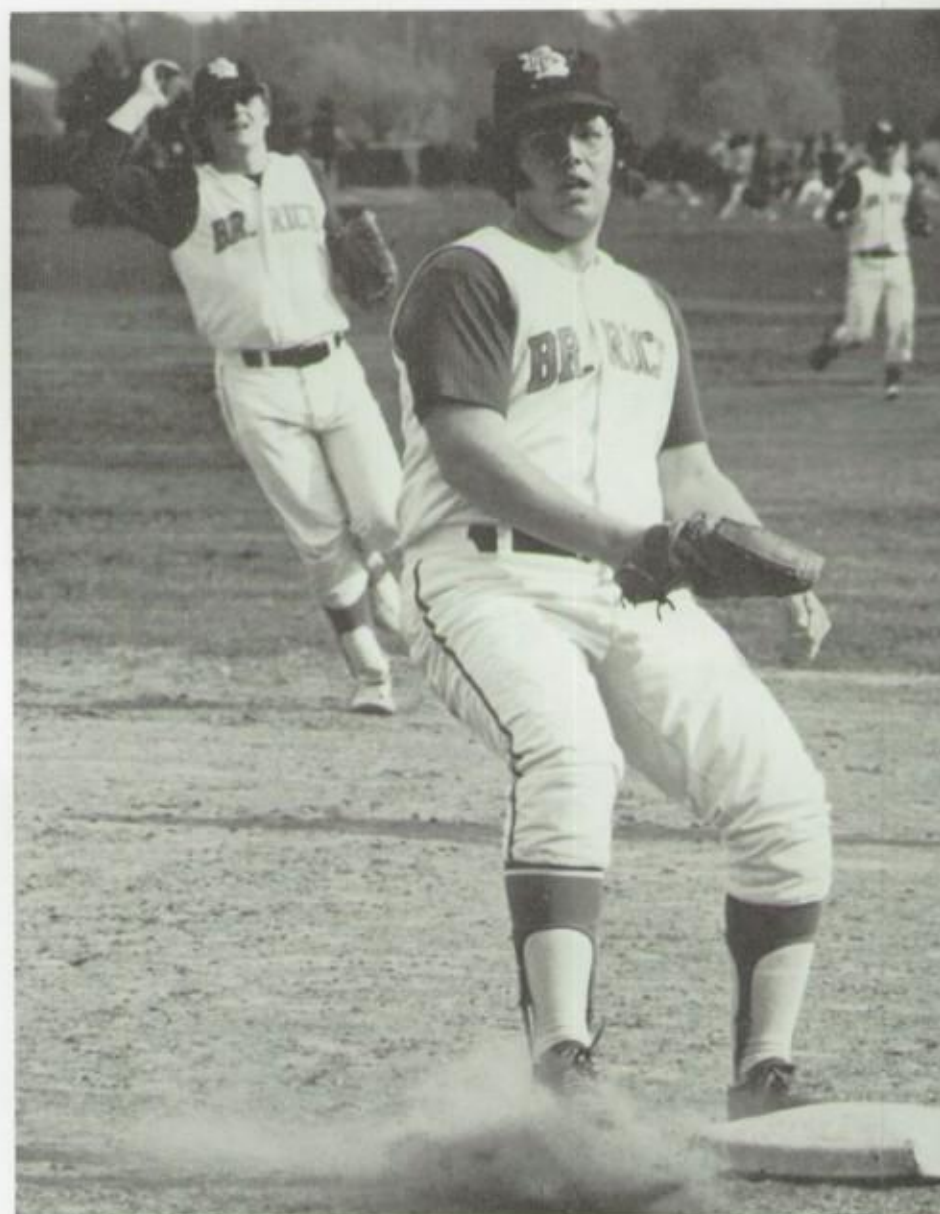

Highlighting the season were revengeful victories against St. Laurence, with wins of 15-0, 10-0, and 20-3. Bob Froio pitched a no-hitter and struck out 17 in the first Laurence game. Also highlighting the year was the team's batting average going into the playoffs, a remarkable .306.

Beside most valuable player Bob Froio, winner of the A. R. Lawless Award as top senior player in the league, there were many individual stars. .300 hitters included Don Pasierb, John Loranger, and Tom Bogusevic. John Mackanin, Rodney Molek, Tom Fazy, and Pasierb were selected to play on the All-Star game. Mackanin, Froio, and Parierb were all voted to the All-League Team.

The strong points of this year's team were its pitching and defense. The pitching staff included Bob Froio 7-0, Ray Jendra 3-1, Randy Theuch 3-0, and Tom Fazy 4-2, and allowed only 31 runs in 17 league games this year.

J-V Baseball

Over eight years, Coach Cliff Petrak has led the junior- varsity baseball team to a 166-23 career record for a school high .876 percentage. After two consecutive 23-1 seasons, the team slipped to a 21-3 season this year; however, they captured first place in the newly formed South Section Frosh-Soph League with an unblemished 12-0 mark.

Even with this remarkable record, it was a rebuilding year, as the freshmen saw more competition than in any previous year. Pitching honors went to sophomore Terry Barnes (5-1) and freshman Kenny Ziemba, who pitched his way (7-0) and hit (.400) to become the most valuable freshman. Freshman second baseman Mike Ladevich captured slugging honors with a .410 batting average, while Ed Eber landed the starting spot at third, hitting .333. Tom Cholly contributed a no-hitter against the King High School Varsity team.

The three sophomore tri-captains, George Dunne, Rick Petrak, and Bernie McQuillan provided the team with numerous thefts on the bases as well as the leadership necessary to insure a fine season. The top sophomore hitters were John Heilmann .362, Randy Keller .367, and Mark Klonowski .350.

Hockey

The 1973 Brother Rice Hockey Team, under the guidance of Coach Petrak, finished its regular season with a 5-4-1 record. The statistics, however, do not give an accurate picture of the talent, spirit, and dedication of this year's ice men. The team played magnificently in the play-offs in which Rice participated for the 10th consecutive time, despite the fact that both games were lost by 3-2 scores, the second in overtime.

Although a dislocated shoulder kept defenseman Brian Roll out of the scoring race, Brian was nominated for the Best Defenseman Trophy and was named Most Valuable Player. While he was out, the slack was taken up by senior Pat Folliard, who played so well that he won a spot on the all-star team. Forwards Jim Kodatt, Mark Uvodich, Tom Kurzawski, Dave Wilkens and Bob Philips provided the scoring, while a standout goalie was found in rookie Mike Roche.

To rebuild for the future, many of the forwards on the front lines were manned by freshmen and sophomores. Junior Mark Uvodich led the scoring and was followed closely by sophomores Tom Kurzowski and Casey Voris, and freshmen Dave Wilkens, Stormy Schmidt, and John Hemmesch.

The defense was composed of rookie goalie Mike Roche, Brian Roll, Dan Elbe, Pat Folliard, Mike Vallortigara, Jim Pecorare, Bill Dytrych and John Hemmesch, who did a fine job in keeping the puck out of our own zone.

Captain Jim Kodatt, along with seniors Bob Phillips and Ken Grebliunas, provided the leadership and experience for the younger linemates. Overall, the Crusaders provided their fans with plenty of thrills and also compiled the best exhibition record ever, 14-4.

Wrestling

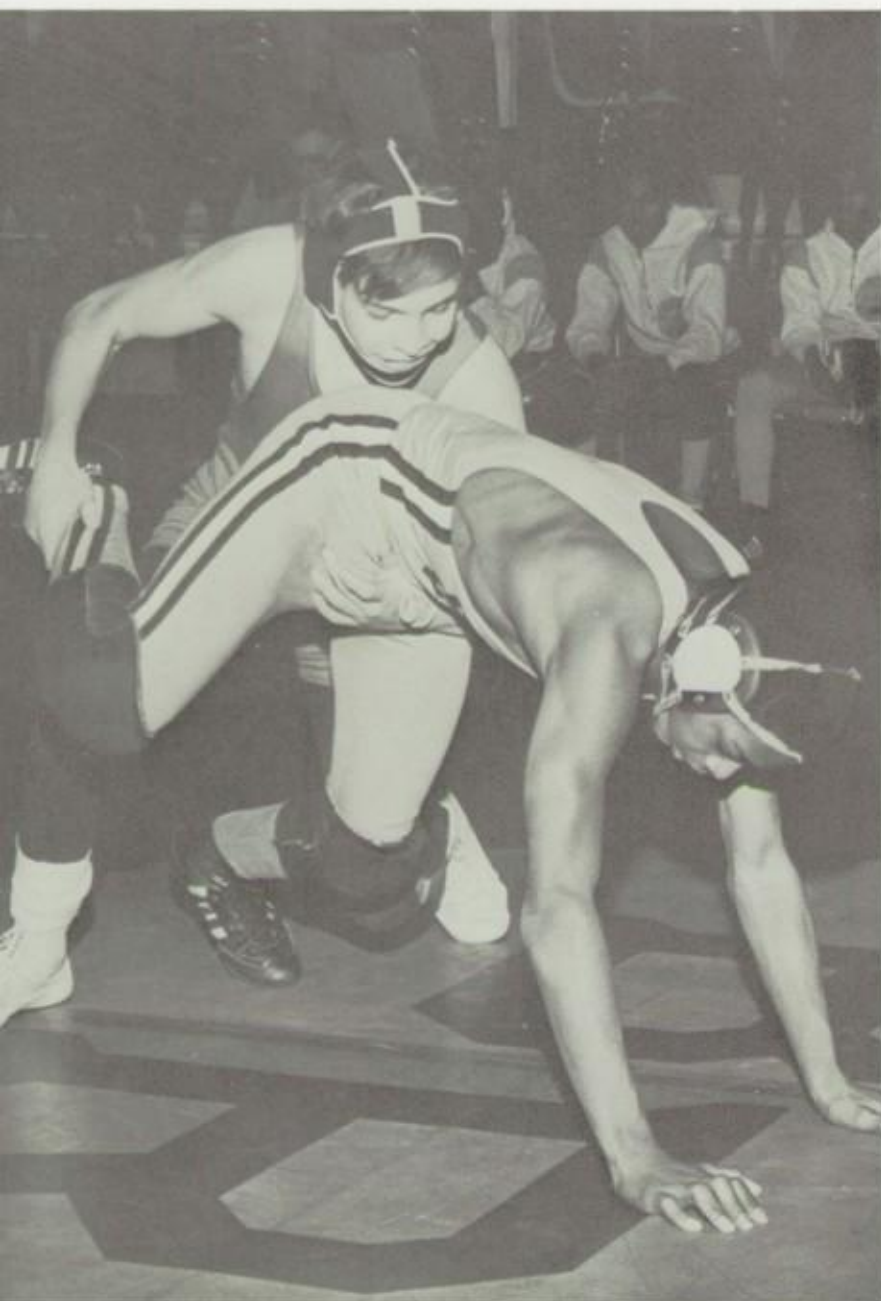

The Brother Rice varsity wrestlers task this year was defending the City Title. With many top starters graduating last year, Coach Moll's matmen came back with a highly successful overall record of 15-4-2, while posting a 6-4-0 league record. This year, the matmen did very well away from league action; winning both the Mike Murphy Tournament and the Marquette Invitational Tournament; however, in the League Championships, our Crusaders lost by one point to Gordon Tech, and finished a strong second. *

The outstanding wrestlers this season included Wayne Bock (heavyweight) and Jack McDonough (119), who took first place trophies in the league championships. Taking second places were Mike Lamb (98), Pat Clark (126), Mike Herlihey (132), and Mike Padden (138).

The junior varsity wrestlers also provided much excitement on the mats. Their overall record was an impressive 11-4-1, and their league record was 7-3-0, placing them fourth in the league championships. Mike Hansen, wrestling at 105 pounds, was a junior leagues champion. John Mullarkey (119) and John Polacheck, (185) took seconds in the city meet.

Heavies

Determination was the key to the heavies successful 9-2 season in Catholic League action this year. After starting slowly, the team's determination enabled Rice to succeed in making the playoffs for the fourth time in the last five years.

The most memorable highlight was a 61-48 victory over St. Laurence in a crucial league game. Before a packed crowd, the much improved John Kloak overpowered a highly rated St. Laurence center to insure Rice a playoff spot. Another highlight was Rice's one point victory over Gordon Tech in the semi-finals, which allowed us to play in the championship game for the second time in five years.

Our Crusader's success among the stiff Catholic League teams can be attributed to many factors: Tony Allen's quick and unexpected development, the leadership and hustle of guard Ray Jendra, John Kloak's improved play, and Rice's two-time Most Valuable Player and Captain, Art Bibbs.

Undoubtedly, Art Bibbs sparked Rice to its successful season. An All-League, All-Area, and 'special mention' All-State candidate, Bibbs established a school record of most career points with 1230 points. As Coach Kellogg stated, "Without exception, Art Bibbs is the best all-around basketball player ever to wear a Brother Rice uniform."

Although losing to Leo in the Catholic League Championship, our Crusaders determination, teamwork, and exciting play created a memorable year for both the fans and record books.

Lights

In contrast to the heavies, the lightweights had a disappointing season. The team had many fine basketball players, though their constant hustle and determination could not offset their inability to score consistently. In addition, injuries to Captain Kevin McGinnis and Tom Leonard diminished the team's chances for a successful season.

The team was led by Most Valuable Player Bob Froio, and rounding out the starters were seniors Robert Fitzgerald and Rodney Molek, junior Tim McGovern, and freshman standout Robert Henegan.

In league action, the lightweights finished with a 2-9 season record. Their best performances were against Mendel in the Fenwick Jr. Tourney, a closely contested battle in which Mendel won in overtime, and against Leo in the last game of the year, in which they played exciting, good basketball before a record attending crowd.

Flies

The flyweights, coached by Mr. Langan, had a 1973 season record of nine wins and five losses. Among the highlights were two victories over St. Laurence and a climaxing win at Leo to close out the season.

Among the starters in the lineup was center Scott Cassidy, who controlled the boards and did a great job on defense; offensively, Bill Lagoni and Rick Fealey each had two 20 point games; Pat Meylon's hustle earned him a position as one of the starting guards, and Joe McKeown was the playmaker and leader on the court.

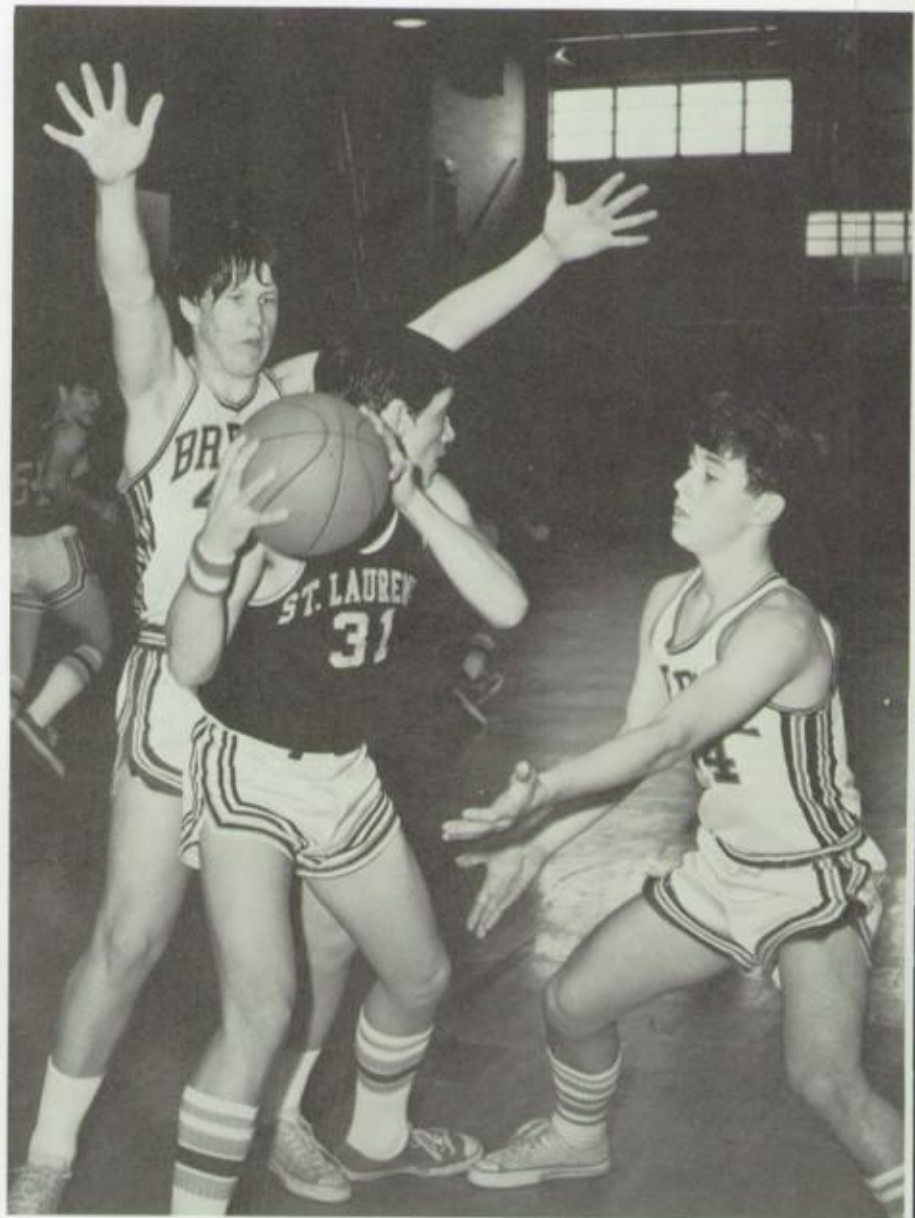

Overall, the flies performed beyond expectations and deserve much credit for playing outstanding basketball this season.

Bantams

The Bantams completed a fifth consecutive winning season with ten wins and four losses. After losing three games by very close scores early in the season, our Crusaders came back fighting to win ten of the next eleven games. Highlighting the season was the team's great victory over previously undefeated Gordon Tech.

On the court, the team was led by freshman Mike Lyman and most valuable player George Kloak. Other starters were Tim McGovern, Mike Freeman, Robert Hartman, and Robert Henegan. Coach Staron deserves credit for another good season.

Soccer

Soccer is an unrecognized scholastic sport at Brother Rice, but with a 9-3-2 season record, it is truly an up and coming sport at Rice. The team belonged to the Chicagoland Soccer League and competed against various independent teams. Beside Mr. Ahern, thanks is extended to Nick Markulin, a U. S. Olympic team member, who volunteered much time and talent to help coach the team.

Highlighting the season was the team's ability to tie the fourth ranked team in the state. This 'win', as well as the entire season, resulted because of a serious attitude and all-out effort by the team. MVP and top defensive player was Karol Kowalczyk; top offensive man was Gordon Zwirkoski.

This year's success is only an indication of the potential that can be realized. Next year's outlook is strong because of the talent and determination of juniors Ed Sinkus, Saul Gyls, Ed O'Connor, Karol Kowalczyk, semi-pro goalie Zenny Balchunas, sophomores Joe Mikrut and Tom Glennon, and freshmen John Hyan, Joe Kearny, and Mike Holmes.

Water Polo

The Brother Rice Water Polo Team finished third in the City Championships this year, once again behind the powerful Loyola and Fenwick teams. Although their record was only three wins and two losses, Brothers Joyce and Favero led this year's highly spirited team to its many fine performances in the fall and spring.

As Brother Joyce stated, if the present juniors have the generous spirit that the seniors portrayed, next year could be the year to defeat our perennial rivals from the North side.

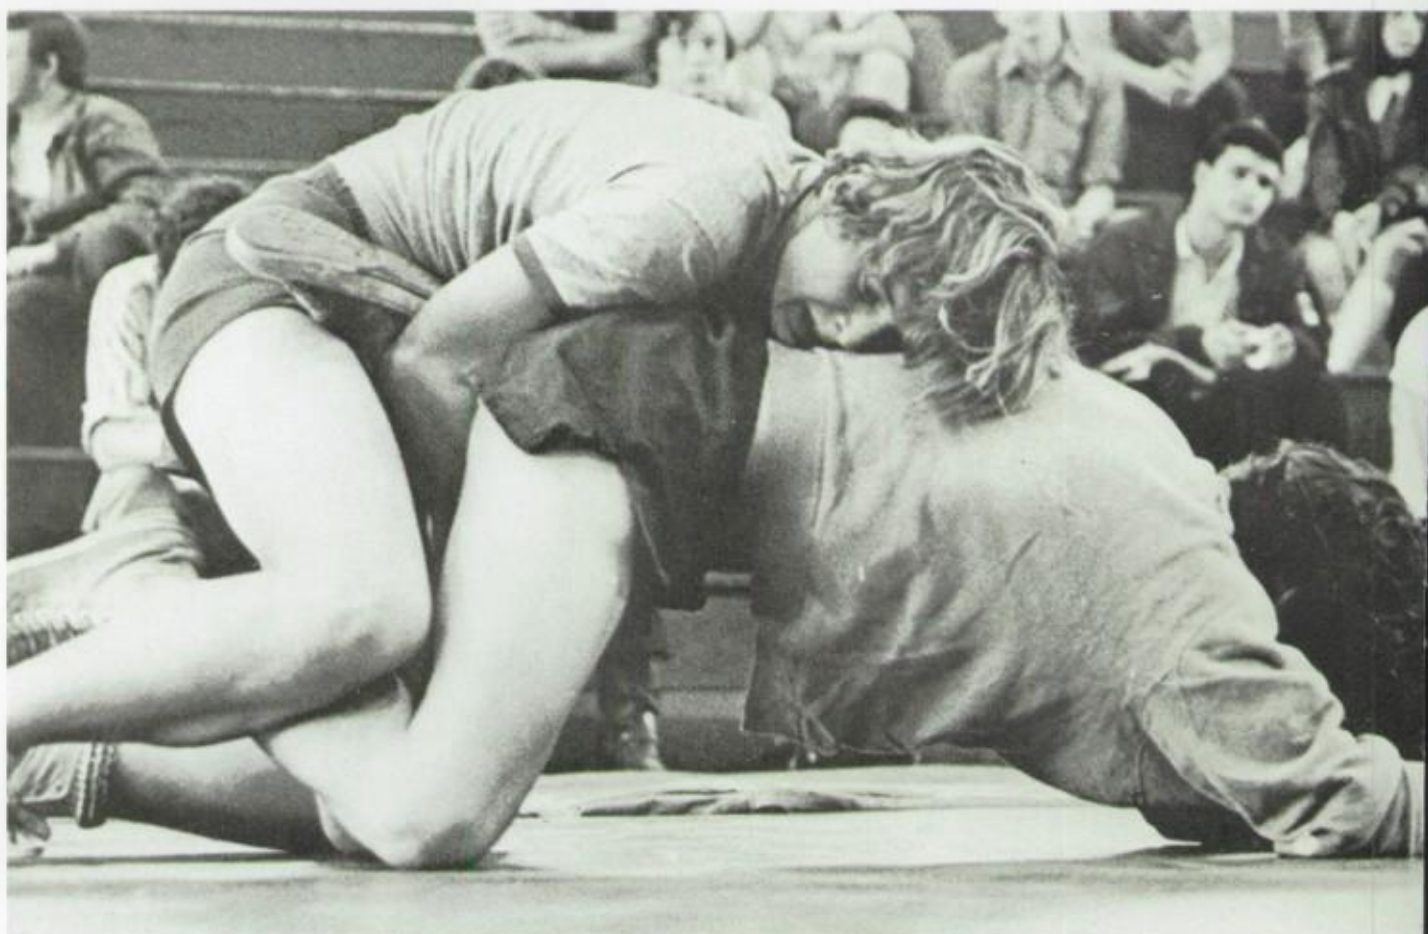

The team was filled with strong, talented players. Captain Steve Ward, the top defensive player, playmaker, and general organizer, and Dave Madej, the top scorer, were the most valuable players. Each earned All-Catholic recognition. In addition, Ward was rated third in All-State and Madej was rated ninth. Senior Mark McCord was named to the second team All-Catholic. The remaining senior starters were Sean Brennan, Tom Wright, and Rich Meyer.

Spring intramurals consisted of four sports this year: softball, wrestling, table tennis, and handball. Hundreds of students participated in the intramural program, testifying that Rice students are interested and active in their school.

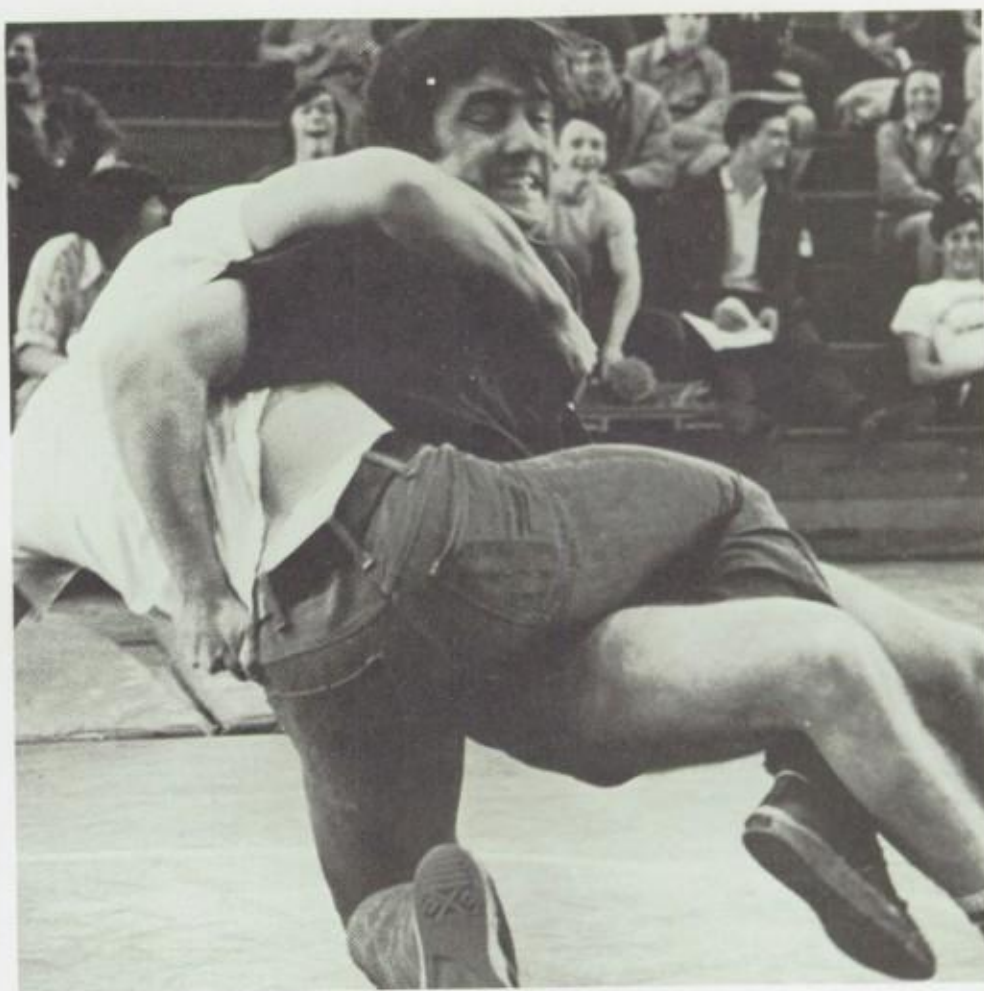

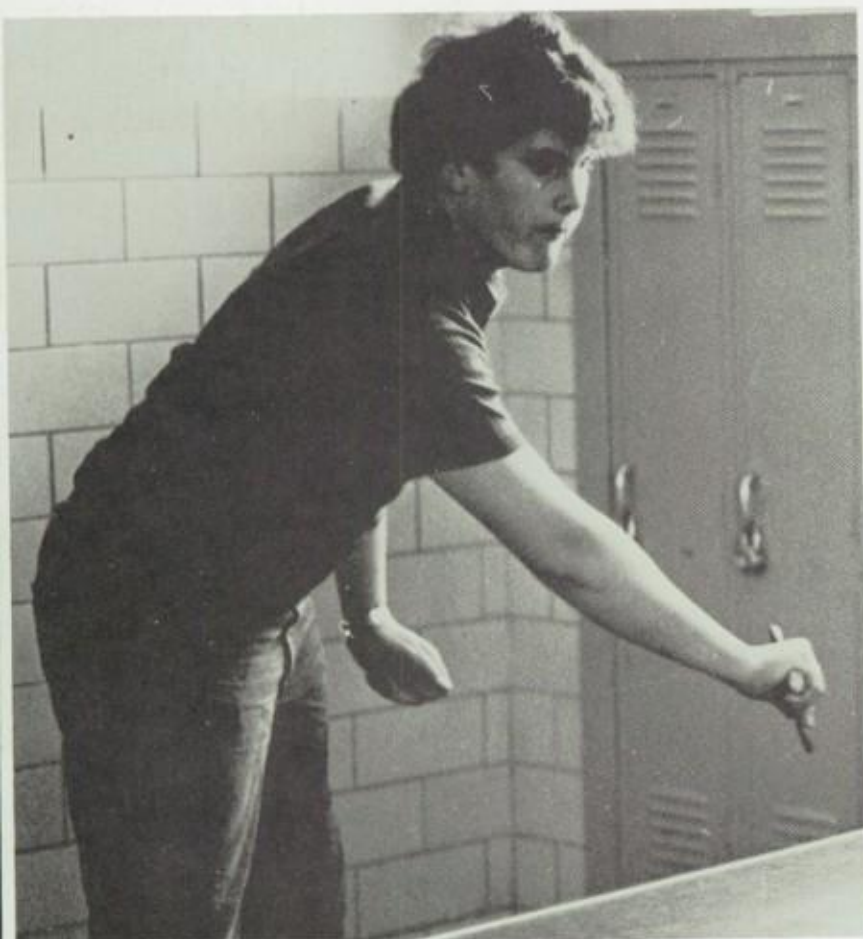

The softball season was shorter than everyone would have liked, but weather was a problem all spring. Eventually it was the 'Mean Machine,' a powerhouse consisting of Mr. Lyons, Jerry Kill, Bob Daum, John Doerrer, John McDonough, Rich Levy, Steve Sloan, Tom Cavellone, Dan Shanahan, Dan Cleary, Mark Donahue, and Ray Topps, that took the championship.

Wrestling was a new intramural sport this year, and very successful. The keen competition ultimately narrowed down to the following students who emerged as champions of their weight class: 112 Tom Lynch (76), 126 Bob Pavone (75), 132 Rick Mirabelli (74), 138 Jim Glynn (74), 145 Tom Tunney (73), 155 Don Sues (74), 167 Tom Morgan (73), 185 Guy Schaffer (74), heavy-weight Jon Zwiitt (73).

Table tennis action took place in the second floor hallways. With close to a hundred students involved, junior Tom Tulig captured first place honors. Sophomore Terry Barnett was a close second.

As in the fall, handball was dominated by the defending doubles team champions: Mike McGowan and Jim Kane. In addition, Jim Kane captured the singles championship.

Most students who have participated in the intramural program feel that it was a tremendous success. Only two improvements could make it better: one is better weather for outdoor sports, especially hockey and softball; two, start all the sports sooner and extend them longer. The fine intramural program at Rice, however, is a clear indication that students do want to become active; hopefully, the program will only improve.

EVENTS

Semester Dance

On Saturday, January 27, more than two hundred couples attended the annual Semester Dance to celebrate the end of the first half of our academic year. The theme of the dance was "Living in the Past," and the Dance Committee went all-out in preparation. The gym was decorated in the style of a medieval castle, including drawbridge, fireplace, and courtyard. Music was provided by the group Buster, which featured a twelve-piece brass section. Those who attended generally felt that the evening was a success and extended special thanks to the dance committee for an excellent job.

Sawdust Dances and Concerts

Ides of March

Sawdust dances at Brother Rice have been a source of recreation and social activity for south side students. This year, an attendance record was broken when the nationally prominent group Styx played on January 13. Approximately twenty-three hundred packed the gym that night to dance and just listen to the music. On April 27, the Ides of March came to the Brother Rice gym. This was not a traditional sawdust dance but more a concert where students listened to the music.

Thanks to the dance committee, sawdust dances have been a lot of fun for everyone as well as a good fund raiser for the school.

Among the groups that performed in the Brother Rice gym this year were the locally well-known groups of Decade, Cross-fire, Papa St. John, and the One-Eyed Jacks.

Plaza Suite

Act I Visitor from Mamaroneck

Act II Visitor from Hollywood

This year, under Brother Shannon's direction and with the help of several drama students from Mother Mc Auley, the Brother Rice Drama Production Class presented Niel Simon's comedy in three acts "Plaza Suite" on January 19-20. The play consisted of three separate stories, related only by the single setting of a hotel suite. Through the production, students learned methods of scenery, lighting, sound arrangements, and the means of stage and publicity management as well as methods of acting.

All Aboard For Broadway

During the weekends of November 3-4, and 10-11, Brother Rice presented its second annual "All Aboard for Broadway" variety musical. Under the direction of Brother Shannon and the chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clingen, the Mother's and Father's Clubs featured five different programs throughout the school. The shows provided relaxed entertainment for all those who participated.

Highlighting the evening was "Music Hall," which was presented in the gymnasium. The show, adapted from the musical "Cabaret," featured the variety group, "The Chordials," who consisted entirely of past Brother Rice players. In room 105-107, Rice graduate Bill Anderson starred as King Arthur in "King Arthur's Court." Food, dancing, and a live band were provided in the Crusader Lounge.

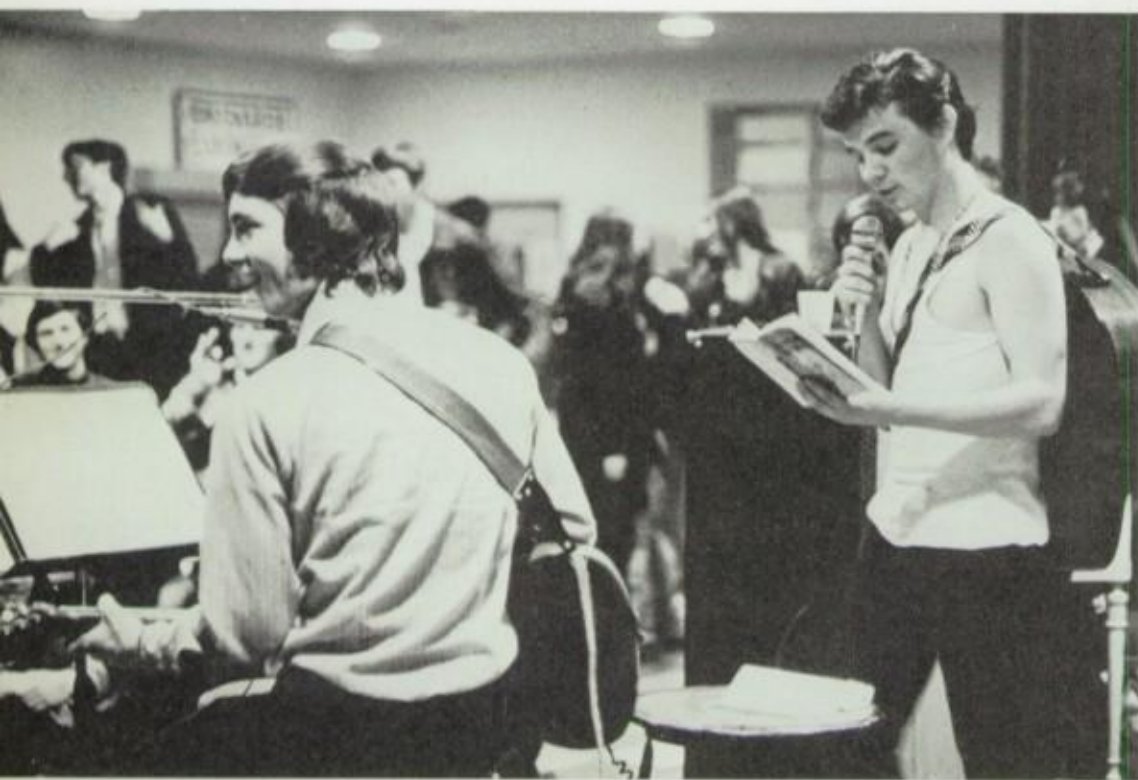

Students and parents alike enjoyed the break in the weekly routine, and the money realized was used for renovations in the school. A thank-you to all involved.

Coffeehouse

If you missed Elvis Presley's "Live in Hawaii" a few months back and you like live music, you should have been at one of Rice's coffeehouses when Ed Johnson gave his impersonation of Elvis singing, among others, "You Ain't Nothin' But A Hounddog." Although "Coffeehouse" sounds like a Mrs. Olsen commercial, the coffeehouses this year provided a place for students and faculty to get together and talk, listen to live entertainment, or play cards, etc. Three were held this year, the latter two being open to both juniors and seniors. They were organized and produced by Bob Stachniak and the coffeehouse committee.

Art Shows

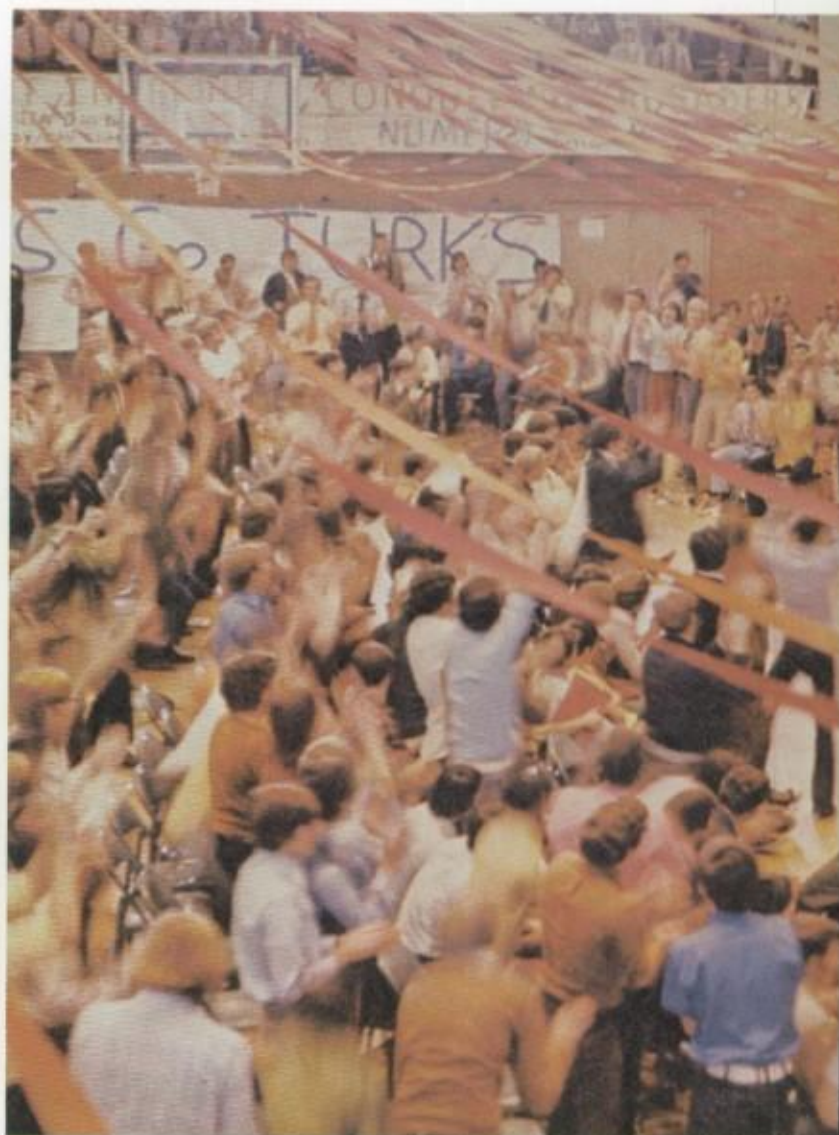

Two art shows were held at Brother Rice this year, one a part of the April Mother's Club meeting at which Brother Chapman presented his own works, and the other at the spring band concert. At both, artworks were displayed from the junior-senior art classes. They included ceramics, wire and cardboard sculptures, watercolors and acrylic paintings. Also, Jack Balas displayed and had for sale some of his watercolor paintings.

Homecoming

The Homecoming weekend for 1972 was a complete success and a most memorable occasion. The festivities began Friday afternoon with one of the more spirited pep rallies the school has witnessed; featured speakers were Coach "Joe" Johnston and Brother Vranka. The enthusiasm was carried over to Saturday night, when 386 couples attended the annual semi-formal dance. The theme of the dance was "Saturday in the Park" with music provided by Happy Day and Bittersweet. Highlighting the evening was Happy Day's "History of Rock" and the crowning of Chris Nugent as Homecoming Queen.

On Sunday afternoon, the Rice motorcade, led by senior Mike Lynch's winning entry, escorted the football team to Gately Stadium to meet the Caravan from Mt. Carmel. The Conquering Crusaders, on their way to a playoff berth, proved too powerful for our opponents and triumphed easily, 36-6.

The Victory Dance Sunday evening ended another successful Crusader Homecoming.

The cast of "Guys and Dolls," this year's presentation by the Brother Rice players, are still singing the praises of Brother Frederick Shannon. Under his talented direction, the Damon Runyon story came alive on the stage of the Brother Rice Center for the Performing Arts.

The first two weekends of April saw capacity crowds enjoying the light-hearted musical, which paints a picture of some of the colorful gamblers and assorted types who could be found on the sidewalks of New York during the 1950's.

A special mention must be accorded Brother James Coleman, choral director, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, choreographer, and Mr. Patrick Henning, conductor of the orchestra. Jerry Kulosky was responsible for the construction of the sets and Vyto Gaizutis acted as scenery designer.

This year's Student Council was one of the best organized and most active in the school's history. President Paul O'Flaherty got us strong supporting performances all year long from Vice-President Bob Stachniak, Secretary Rick Mirabelli, and senior representative Mike Lynch. Treasurer Bob Chanchola, the best group of homeroom representatives in memory, and assorted other interested students filled out the cast of characters for an exceptional year.

This Council was particularly strong in the area of student services. The Student Council Assistance Board provided help for those with disciplinary or other problems. The intramural program was once again a tremendous success, and a job placement service was organized. The Open School policy was repeated; the council helped organize the Chess and Ecology Clubs, ran a number of coffeehouses, and applied for a Key Club Chapter. Students doing the announcements, and fund-raisers such as Grub Day, the free-throw contest, and a basketball marathon provided welcome changes of pace. The Relay, a newsletter, kept the student body informed of Council activities.

Approaches to school problems were more low key than in recent years, and the greater emphasis on cooperation led to results. This was typified in the Library Moderator System, which eventually resulted in students once again having personal access to the shelves of books. The Council also conducted inquiries into the Religion and English departments.

Another marked change from previous years was that the Council addressed itself to activities and causes outside the school. Brother Rice played a large part in organizing an Inter-School Student Council, sponsored several student exchanges and a Christmas drive for the needy, and several anti-abortion activities. The Council assisted the Alumni-Association in a number of projects.

As an overview, the Council tried to narrow the divisions existing in the school, and did, to a degree, foster a greater atmosphere of trust. This unity was tangibly widened in the drive to aid Tom Esposito, a critically burned Rice student. The drive netted $1500.00 in contributions from all portions of the school — a testament to what is right about Brother Rice.

Committees

Student Council Assistance Board

Bob Daum, Mike Lynch, Phil Regan, Steve Rosenbaum.

The Student Council has this year organized a number of committees yielding various benefits to the student body.

Although there were no picket lines to cross, SCAB was a big word around the school early in the year. Headed by senior Mike Lynch, the Student Council Assistance Board was an outlet for students by which they could voice grievances against the school, make suggestions to the Student Council, or appeal jugs thought to be unfair, (125 successful). A very successful endeavor, SCAB was "highly respected by the administration," says Paul O'Flaherty.

The three coffeehouses run this year were organized by Bob Stachniak and the coffeehouse committee, handling such areas as publicity, entertainment, and refreshments (including free coffee).

If a student was interested in doing more during the summer than watch "The Guiding Light" on TV and see Monty Hall trade away boxes of toothpicks, he would give his name to the Job Placement Committee (a brainchild of Paul O'Flaherty), headed by junior Rich Williams.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE: Rick Petrak, O. Brown, Bob Daum, Rick Mirabelli, Brendan Lynch, Mike Lynch, Jim Winters.

A list of students interested in summer jobs was then compiled and distributed to potential employers on the southwest side.

If you were a freshman or sophomore this year, perhaps your religion class was interviewed by the Curriculum Committee, formed later in the year and headed by Jim Winters. Although originally intended to cover more than one field of study, the C. C. filed a report on their study of the frosh-soph. religion courses and recommended some changes.

To continue the extensive intramural program established last year, the intramural committee was again formed, widening still the range of sports open to the student body. Headed by Bob Stachniak and co-ordinated by Br. Granitz and Br. Fitzsimmons, the committee saw to officials and referees for each sport, as well as handled the registration of interested students.

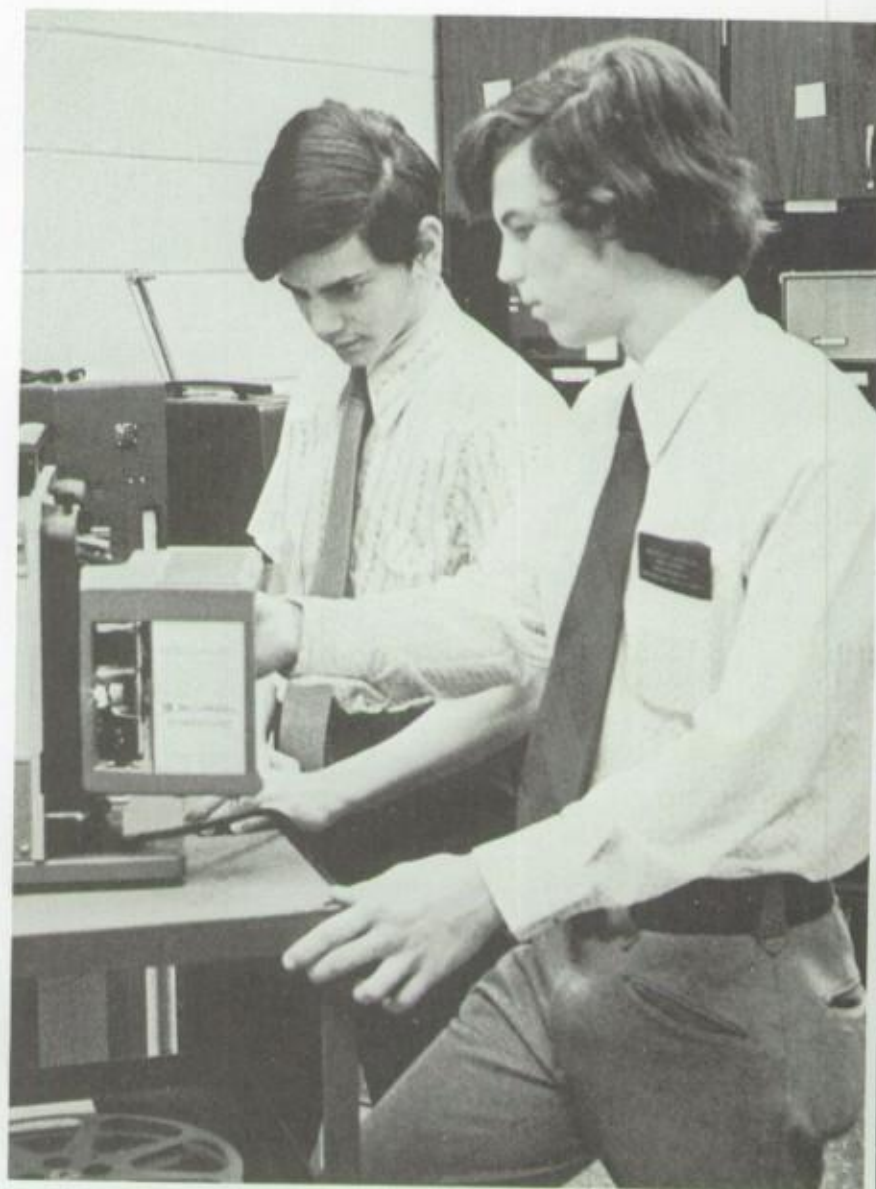

A-V Club

This year under its moderator Brother Rice, the A-V Club expanded its activities to radio and television broadcasting. WBR channel 6 was the name heard on TV when seniors Bill Martin, Bob Miller, and Dan Frystak, and junior Brian Chamberlain collaborated to produce a morning news show. The radio station operated during lunch periods when various record albums were heard in the listening center.

Aside from the service of handling audio-visual equipment throughout the day, the A-V center this year began a program for individual students to create their own learning experience. The center helped in the production of class projects, ranging from slide shows and sound tracks to video-taped television programs, enabling students to be their own teachers.

The members of the A-V Club this year were Brian Chamberlain, Larry Derby, Paul Joria, Bill Martin, David Balko, Ted King, Tom Sukowicz, and Tony Lang.

Pep Club and Cheerleaders

Did you ever go to a football game or a pep rally where everyone screamed so loud that you were hoarse just from listening? If not, you should have been there when Kevin McKenna and the rest of the pep club led the weekly delirium in the gym and at the games.

Moderated by Brother Walczak, the members this year were co-captains Kevin McKenna and Tom York, the Crusader, Paul Vanderhulst, Bob Knoerzer, John McAdaragh, Neil Harrington, Mike Murphy, Chester Ryske, Mike Solski, Brian Wilcox, and Tom Williams.

The cheerleaders this year were captain Fran Martin, Nancy Boch, Kathy and Kriss Gartland, Pat Madsen, Ann Beattie, Sue Ras, and Pearl Kosowski.

Library Club

To help manage the continual increase in the number of volumes received and maintained in the library, the librarians are assisted by the group of students comprising the Library Club. Not to be confused with the library moderators, maintained by the Student Council to enable an open-stack system toward the end of the year, club members help in the processing of new books, as well as organizing the stacks and reference materials and cleaning the library itself.

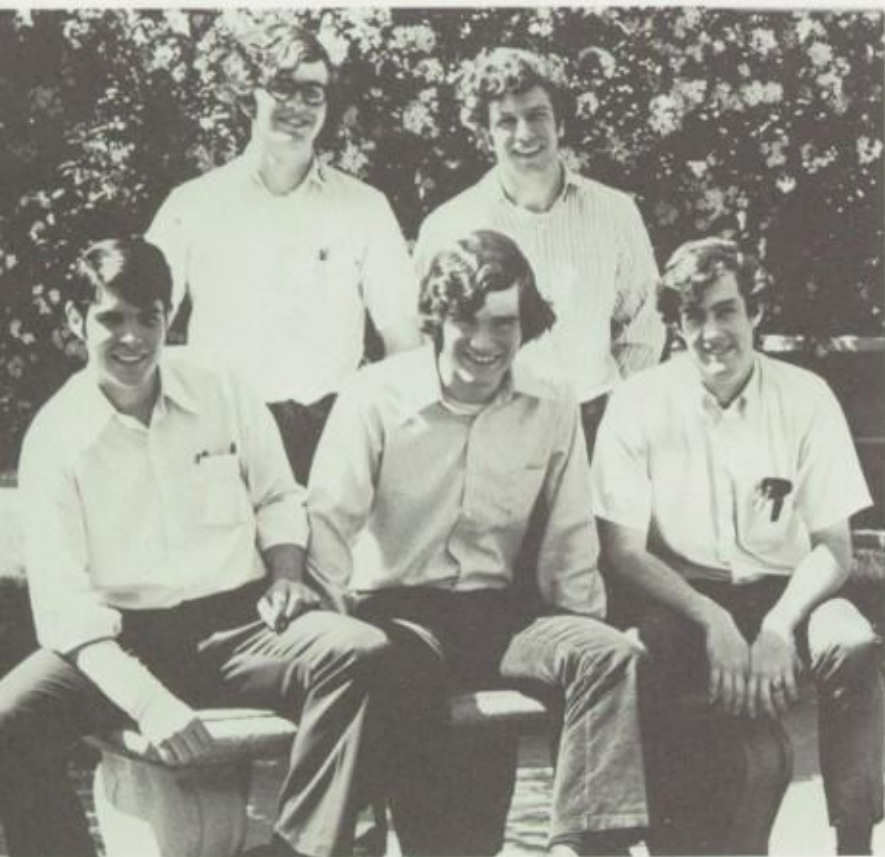

The club, moderated by Brother Pilon, is the oldest club at Brother Rice. This year it has been separated from the A-V Department to allow for greater efficiency in both sections.

Election Committee

The election committee's purpose is to organize and create campaign rules for the student council officers' election for next year. It is their responsibility to insure that none of the candidates violate the rules, as well as conduct the voting primaries and actual election. This years results indicate that, once again, Brother Rice will have interested student participation in school activities.

Sitting: Mike Lynch, Jim Winters, John Doerrer.
Standing: Jack Balas, Mark McCord.

Impulse

Short stories, poems, wild drawings by Bob Mical and Tom Strauch, and a lot of running around at the last minute trying to decide what goes in, once again resulted in the spring edition of Impulse, the student literary magazine.

Moderated by Mr. Kevin Hickey and edited by Jack Balas and Dave Para, the publication offers an outlet for student creativity, both literary and artistic, and provided interesting reading even when there was nothing else to do except wait for the bell to ring.

Project 73

Project '73 was this year organized on the initiative of its student leader Bob Daum, thus continuing several social work projects at Brother Rice.

The annual Christmas drive was conducted to aid St. Gabriel's parish in Chicago, and a trip to Dixon State Hospital was attempted but prevented because of insufficient free time.

Over New Year's, Mr. Lyons took a group of five seniors as volunteers to the Christian Appalachian Project in Eastern Kentucky. While he and Jack Balas worked in Camp Nelson helping renovate a restaurant, Bob O'Connell and Pat Kennedy helped fix up a home for the aged in Mount Vernon. Kevin McKenna and Ed Johnson worked on tobacco and dairy farms around McKee.

Though the accomplishments may be small, "small deeds done are better than great deeds planned," as read a poster hanging in the volunteers' dorm in Lancaster.

Dance Committee

This year's dance committee actually began at the end of last year with the sophomore-junior dance "Out in the Country." Under president Jim Gaspar and moderated by Brother Walczak, the organization provided a series of sawdust and semi-formal dances for the student body.

At Homecoming, the theme "Saturday in the Park" brought images of trees and park benches to the gym and cafeteria, while couples danced to the music of "Happy Day." "Buster" was the name of the band at the Semester Dance, when the gym was transformed into a castle for "Living in the Past."

Special thanks to Jim, Bob Miller and Gary Hulkowich for bands; Jim Noga for bids; Frank Szafranski and Ken Gabriel for public relations; Jack Balas, Kevin Flaws, and Dave Howey for decorations; and all the rest without whom the dances would not have been possible.

Prom Committee

Standing: J. Wappel, J. Doerr, J. Gaspar, R. Daum, B. Flaherty. Kneeling: R. Miller, M. Lynch, P. Regan.

A lot of work goes into the Senior Prom even before the first couples enter into the red plush of Ferrara Manor. Such things as collecting money and taking care of seating arrangements, bids, bands, invitations, and beer mugs are worked out by the Prom Committee.

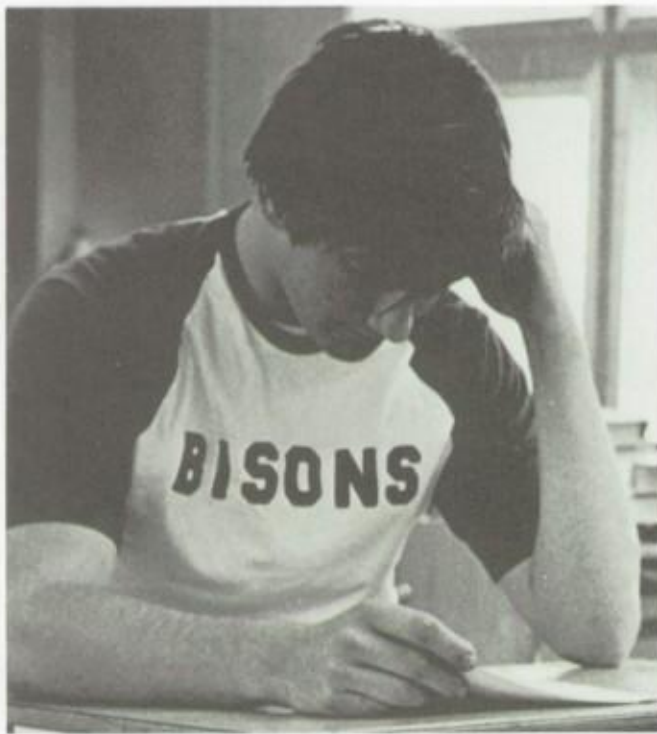

This year, the committee was headed by Mike Lynch, and moderated by Brother Popish. Thanks to Mike and Brother and the rest of the committee and helpers who made the night of May 4 such a memorable evening.

Standard

In early September, Fr. R. E. Tomkins was appointed to be the new moderator of the Standard. Later in the same month the senior editors resigned from the staff, leaving the future of the paper in jeopardy. Fortunately, a group composed of an equal number of seniors, juniors and sophomores answered Br. Tomkins request for help by taking over the job of putting the newspaper to press. This newly formed staff, headed by editor-in-chief Eugene Valdes, introduced a relatively unique style of journalism.

The accomplishments of the staff are seen in its publication of six editions in six months: its changed format and experimentation with various printing styles in order to change from the less appropriate magazine to more contemporary news writing; and its unparalleled recognition of academic and personal achievements on the part of the students.

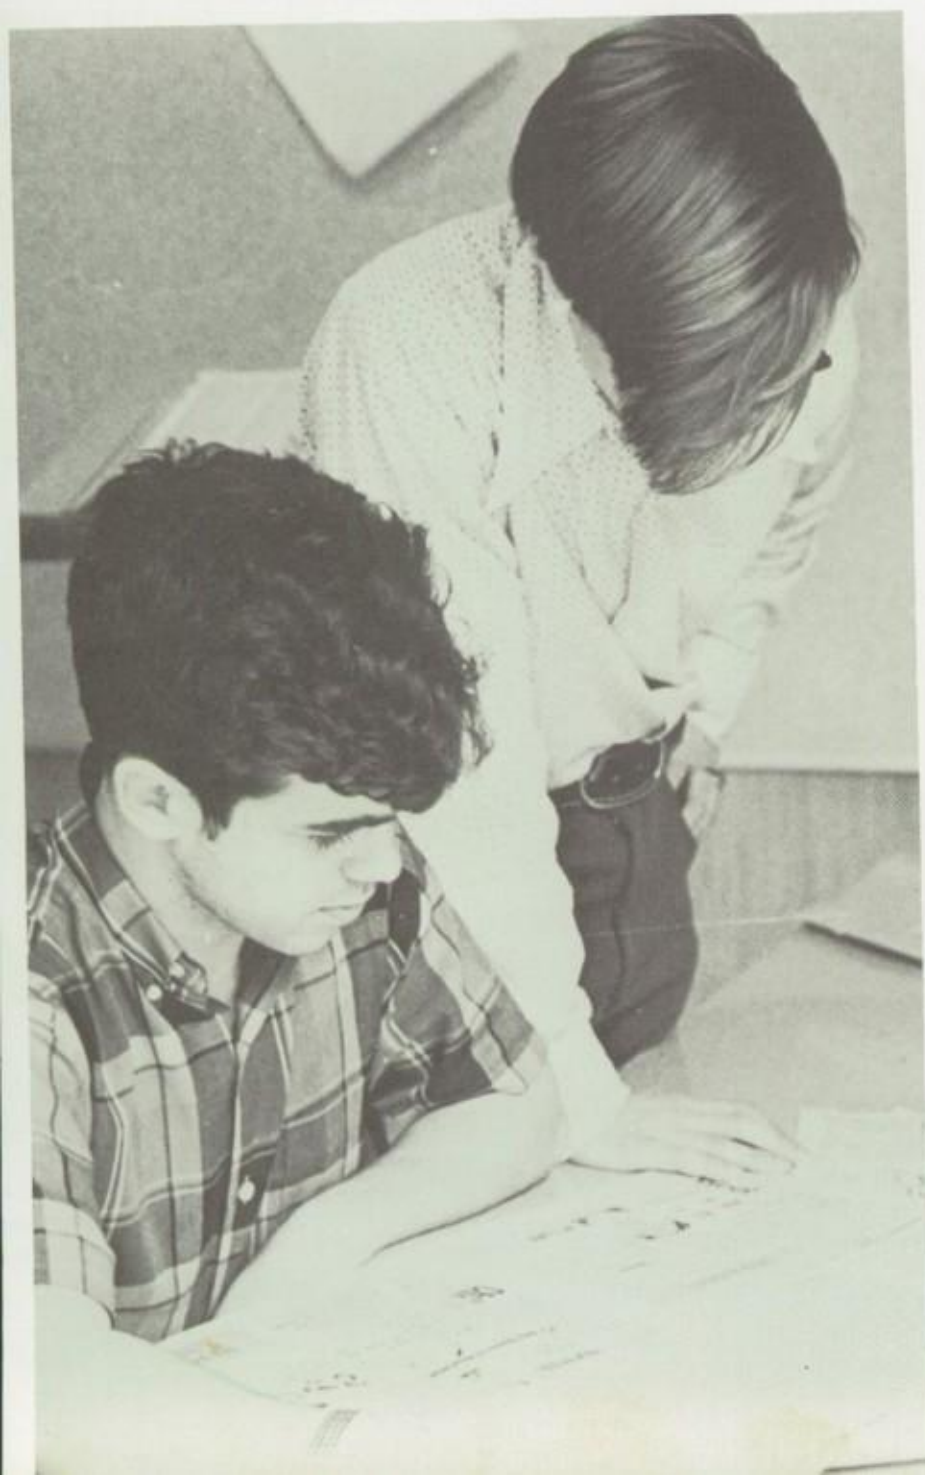

The goal of this year's staff was to lay down a foundation for a better and more professional Standard in the years to come. With the improvement of each edition of the paper, the staff felt that it had achieved this goal.

Speech and Debate

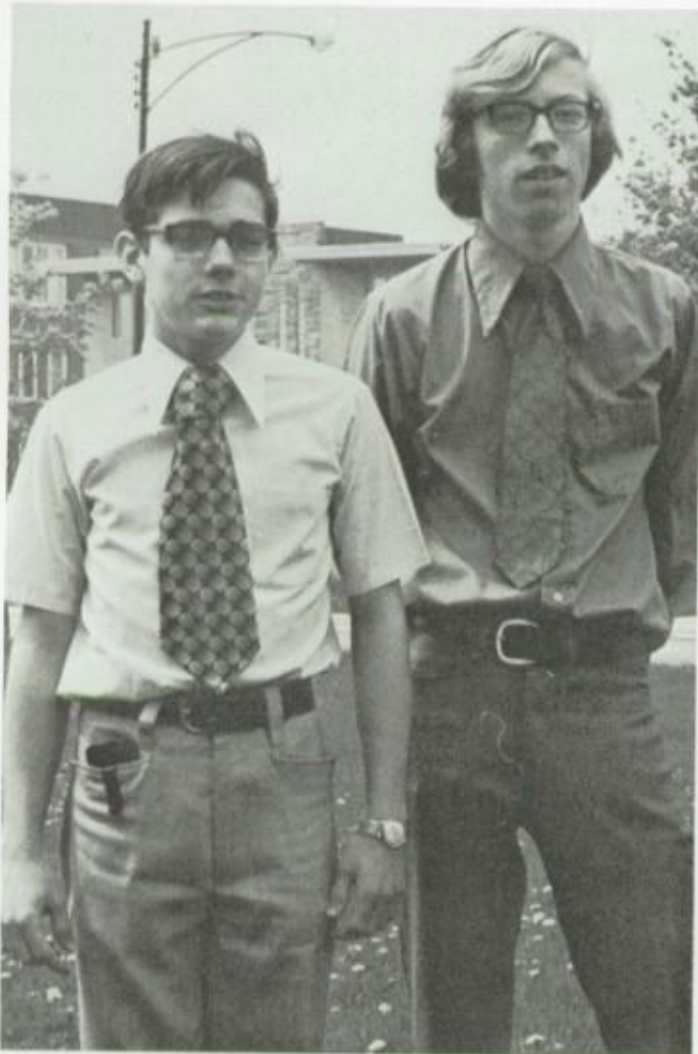

Once more under the direction of Mr. Hal Ross, the Debate and Forensics Team did a fine job representing Brother Rice as a member of the Chicago Catholic Forensics League in its numerous tournaments. This year the school was host to the Grand National Speech Tournament in which participants hail from all parts of the country. Rice's representative was sophomore Glenn Rabinak who excels in extemporaneous speaking.

Outstanding speakers on the team this year were juniors Tim McCarthy and Vince Ambrosia, and senior Bill Bodlak excelling in radio commentating and the oral interpretation of literature.

Seniors Paul O'Flaherty and Mike Lynch were, this year, representatives to the Student Congress. In this body, various bills are introduced and debated in a similar fashion to that of the Congress of the United States.

National Merit Winners

Based on a national competition, twenty nine seniors were honored this year by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Twenty five received Letters of Commendation showing that they belong in the top two percent of all those in the nation who took the Preliminary Scholarship Aptitude Test during their junior year in high school. The six seniors, pictured at the left were further honored when they were named National Merit Finalists. Finally, two of these six, Jim Hicks and Joe Kapus, were named National Merit Scholars. This final determination used the test scores as well as their grades in school, their leadership qualities, and participation in extra-curricular activities as the determining characteristic.

Ecology Club

This year saw the formation of the Ecology Club at Rice. In some respects a continuation of the Biology Club from a few years ago, the main purpose of this group was to expose its members to a number of different natural environments. A "smashing success," says Bob Daum, the group, moderated by Mr. Konieczny, took a trip to Indiana Dunes State Park earlier in the year. Also, Brother Granitz led a three-day winter camping trip to Mississippi Palisades State Park along the Mississippi River in western Illinois.

Chess

The Chess Club has made its debut at Brother Rice in the wake of renewed interest sweeping the country following the Spasky-Fisher chess tournament.

With fifteen members meeting once a week, the club is moderated by Brother Lucas, by no means a rook-ie at chess (forgive the pawn, it's been a bad knight). Several tournaments were held within the school, as well as matches with Evergreen Park High School. The players, whose "caliber of play has increased greatly," says Brother Lucas, hope to enter an area chess league in the coming year.

Crusader '73

The improvements in the 1973 edition of the Crusader begin with its simple embossed cover. With the Brother Rice emblem and a textured grain, the cover's appearance sets the stage for a rich yearbook.

In order to describe an entire school year through photographs and copy, the staff felt some improvements were needed. First, we used more photographs throughout the introductory, underclass and senior sections; secondly, to have more accurate coverage of sports, organizations and events, we limited the size of the group or team picture thereby having more space for action shots and written copy.

Besides moving the senior portraits to the back of the book, another innovation was the Academics section. The purpose of this section was to describe anything innovative about each of the academic departments. At Rice, however, with the limited subject areas and classroom materials, it was difficult to accurately describe through photographs and words what actually occurred in the classroom.

Photography, which makes up three-fourths of a yearbook, was our major problem. Even though Paul Joyce took thousands of pictures and spent countless hours printing and developing them, he never had enough time to take all the pictures we hoped he could. Special thanks and recognition to Paul for a great job.

I would like to thank everyone who gave their help and free time to put the yearbook together. It was a huge job and we became rushed at times, but we hope you enjoy it.

135 Illinois State Scholars

This year 135 members of the senior class were recognized as Illinois State Scholars. This status, determined through the scores on the ACT tests and by class rank, makes the recipient eligible for a monetary award from the state. This may then be used at an Illinois college or university of the student's choice. Congratulations to the young men pictured here for their fine academic performance.

C.A.L.M.

The Chicago Area Lay movement is perhaps the most worthwhile activity at Brother Rice. Not only does it provide for the tutoring of inner-city black grammar school students, but it is also a heart-warming educational experience for those Rice and Mother McAuley juniors and seniors who meet every Tuesday afternoon with them. Two of the three groups, Holy Cross and St. Charles met at McAuley's cafeterias throughout the year. St. Cyril's first met at the inner-city school until the latter half of the year, when they met at Rice.

Newspapers with articles contributed by the tutees were published occasionally by each group using the different holidays as themes: e.g., the Cyril's Soul Ciccular.

Santa Claus brought the presents at the Christmas party. When it came time for the picnics held in May, the children were able to go swimming, play basketball and volleyball as well as enjoy the refreshments.

Thanks to the students for their time and to the moderators who made it all happen. Mr. Rattigan, and Brothers Chapman, McGraw, Favero, Vranka, and Devane.

Band

Perhaps the most demanding and time consuming activities to be found at Brother Rice is the Band, having now completed its sixteenth year as a major public relations agent for the school.

Its sixty-three members, headed by president Frank Szafranski, put in many hours of practice, as the band is presently a fully accredited, full period class throughout the year. Performing at pep rallies and football games earlier in the year as well as in the Columbus and St. Patrick's Day parades downtown was the marching band, directed by Mr. Patrick J. Henning.

The concert band, ranked as one of the best in the area by moderator Br. James Coleman, presented a number of concerts for students and parents during the year. It was under the direction of Mr. Leo J. Henning.

For the second year now, the freshmen members of the band formed the Esquire Band. Special thanks is extended to those in the play band, who sacrificed many hours in order to provide music for this year's senior musical, "Guys and Dolls." To everyone, congratulations on a job well done.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society has this year been reactivated after a one-year absence at Brother Rice. Moderated by Brother Lucas, this service organization was basically involved in non-profit, short-term tutoring for students who were in need of a little extra help with school work. The 137 members, junior and senior honor students, were picked on the basis of character, scholarship and leadership, having been members of a service organization. Although the NHS was organized rather late in the school year, the foundation has been laid for a more active group in the future, says Br. Lucas.

Book-store

The bookstore, managed by Brother Mahoney, once again provided a proving ground for any student who wanted to display his elbow-shoving abilities, while waiting to take advantage of one of the special Holiday Specials on Brother Rice pens, T-shirts, etc. Seriously, where could you buy all your books, notebooks, slide rules and benny bags without paying sales tax?

Black Student Committee

The Black Student Committee is not an activity in the true sense; rather, it provides an environment for the black students at Brother Rice to study and appreciate his heritage. Through discussion of black culture, history, and literature, the student can create for himself a sense of identity, and also an atmosphere for being involved in the school. Although such an organization is not needed as greatly as it was four years ago when the BSC was formed, says moderator Mr. Robinson, the initiative to form the committee each year lies in those students who feel a need to join.

Mothers' Club

For the eighth year Brother Shannon has moderated the Mothers' Club, which again has brought a number of changes to the school. Thanks to the devoted efforts of some of our mothers, there are now new curtains in both the foyer and on the stage, carpeting in the band room, a couple of new display cases, and a new sound system in the cafeteria.

Last November, in conjunction with the Dad's Club, the parents produced another "All Aboard for Broadway" series of hit musical plays under Brother Shannon's direction. In the spring, the annual luncheon was held, culminating another successful ad-chance drive.

Father's Club

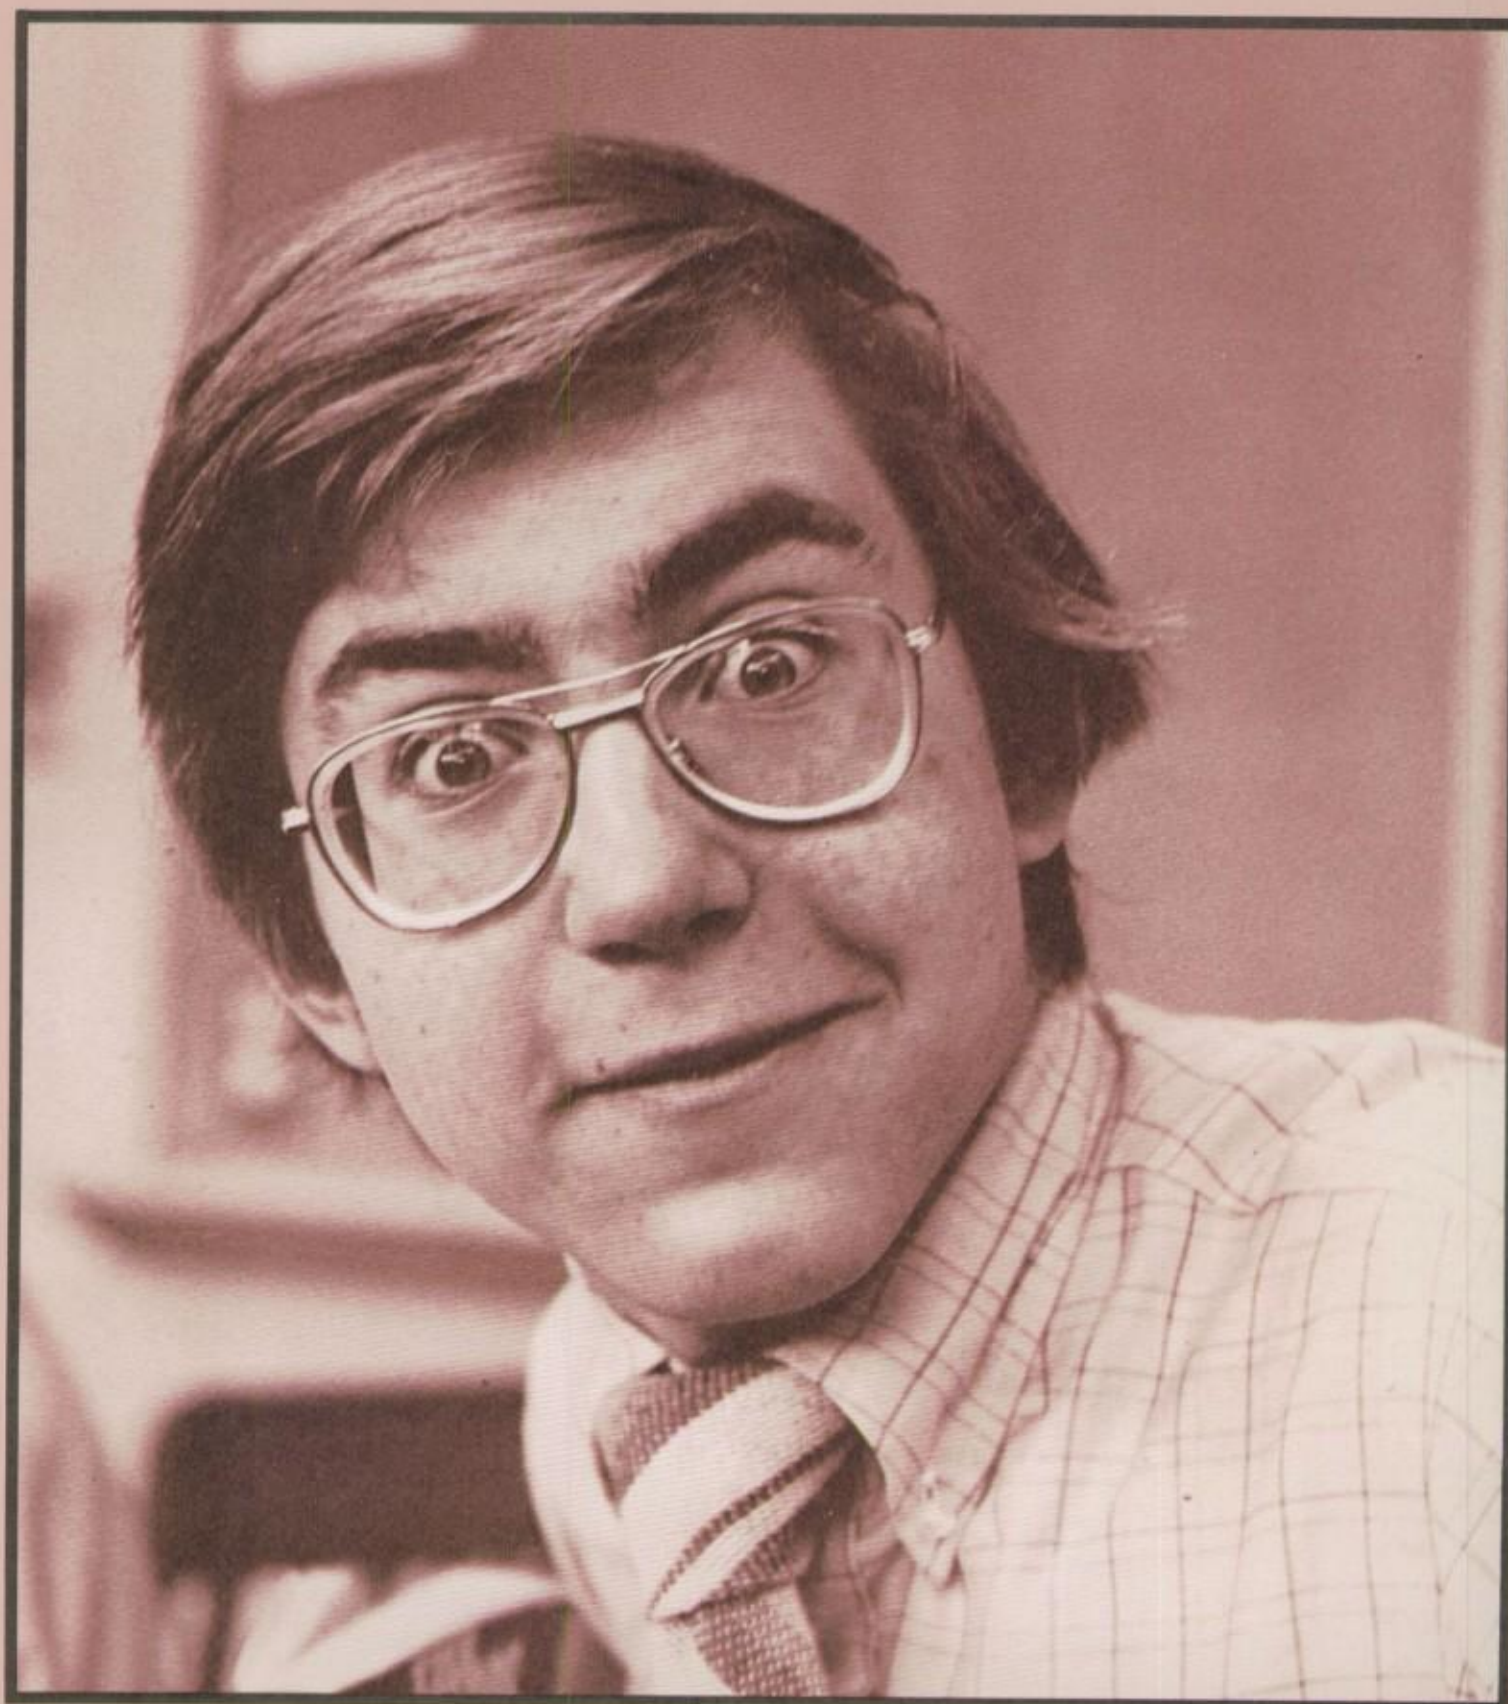

The Dad's Club has again proved a great service to Brother Rice. Besides ushering at football and basketball games and dances throughout the year, the members also pay dues which go into an insurance fund. This fund enables students, whose father dies while he attends Brother Rice, to continue their education here tuition-free. Approximately $11,000 was spent this year through their endeavor for this purpose.

At the monthly meetings, hams and slabs of bacon are raffled off. Also, sports movies and travelogues are shown.

The 1100 members, moderated by Brother Mooney, also sponsor the chance book drive and a number of dances in conjunction with the Mother's Club.

The Fourteenth Annual Senior Prom was held on May 4 at the classic Ferrara Manor. The elegant setting provided a perfect atmosphere for an evening of dancing to the music of the Leo Henning Orchestra and Heritage.

During the evening, Cathy Schied, escorted by John McAdaragh, was crowned Queen of the Prom. Dinner was served shortly before midnight and the dancing continued until 2:00 A.M.

It was a night to remember and a special thanks goes to the chaperones, Brother Popish, and the Prom Committee.

There is little of an original nature that can be written about a graduation. To the participants there is the realization that this event marks the final time the class will be together as a group. This fact, perhaps more than any other, contributes to the solemnity of the occasion. The end, in this case, represents a beginning; and a farewell to the past carries with it a greeting to the future. So it has been with other classes. So it is for the Class of 1973.

The Fourteenth Annual Commencement Exercises began on May 24 with a Baccalaureate Mass celebrated at Queen of Martyrs Church. The Mass of Friendship, concelebrated by Father R. Webb and Father W. McDonough, was attended by seniors and their parents. Immediately following the Mass, a buffet dinner was given in the school cafeteria in honor of the Class of 1973. Special recognition goes to Brother Popish, Brother Coleman, and participating seniors for their efforts.

On Sunday, May 27, the entire senior class was assembled for the last time at Medinah Temple for the graduation ceremony. After opening the program with the National Anthem, Paul Omastak, the Salutatorian, greeted the parents and guests and congratulated his fellow graduates. Brother Hueller, assisted by Brother McGraw, then distributed the diplomas and awards while Mr. Cassidy acted as Master of Ceremonies. Mark McCord then delivered the Valedictory, which emphasized the importance of individual concern and responsibility. Brother Hueller, in his Address to the Graduates, congratulated the class on their achievements and their contribution to Brother Rice and its tradition. The Reverend Monsignor Francis A. Brackin's concluding remarks and good wishes brought the ceremony to a close.

The 524 members of the Class of 1973 received over 200 college scholarships. Seventeen of the graduating seniors were given awards for special achievements, and 109 graduated with honors.

Recording the school year was a very difficult task. The members of the yearbook staff all contributed, in their small and large ways, to its accomplishment. Although we did not make a deadline, customary for Rice yearbook staffs, our main problem was photography. Unfortunately, some memorable moments are not represented because our photographers were not able to be present, or did not have their cameras with them to capture those moments. The pictures throughout the yearbook, however, do contain countless hours of work and sacrifice, and do succeed very satisfactorily in describing the outstanding year.

1973 will be long remembered — both in its happier and sadder aspects. Although very successful, 1973 was the year of the runner-up at Brother Rice. Championship titles and honors were almost within our trophy cases in baseball, football, basketball, wrestling, and hockey, but unfortunately, it was a runner-up year.

Active participation in organizations: student council, pep club, CALM, and others, was one key to the successful year. "Guys and Dolls," the parent's club's plays, the ad-drive, and the prom, reinforced the strong tradition of excellence in Rice people.

Most of all, however, the Class of 1973 has been congratulated for their cooperation in the classroom and in school activities and policies. Student Appreciation Day, May 11, was the first time the administration concretely recognized and thanked a graduating class.

Although it may have gone too quickly I am glad I was a member of this class and had the opportunity to record its history for everyone to remember in the future.
